Executive Summary

Jaipuria Institute of Management is led by doyens of exceptional vision who have always remained concerned about developing next generation thought leaders. Beginning with Seth Anandram Jaipuria's pioneering initiative to set up Jaipuria College in Calcutta as far as back in 1945, the commitment of the House of Jaipurias to providing superior quality education has only deepened and grown since then.

It is this heritage spanning over seven decades and four generations that distinguishes us from the others.

Commitment to Education: Besides Seth Anandram Jaipuria College in Kolkata (formerly known as Calcutta) which had the distinction of being inaugurated by Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru, the House of Jaipurias later established a Jaipuria School each in the cities of Kanpur and Lucknow. Both these schools are well known not only for imparting quality education but also for effecting all-round development to the students. Jaipuria school at Lucknow is ranked among the top ten in the entire country, as per IMRB survey. Setting up of four Jaipuria Institutes of Management at Lucknow, Noida, Jaipur, and Indore took this commitment to the next level. We are guided by an overarching mission to promote human well being through effective education.

Jaipuria Approach to Learning: We believe in a learner-centric approach where learning is imparted using various means suiting individual abilities and interests. Management being an experiential discipline as opposed to experimental, Jaipuria believes "learning by doing" is one of the best means of internalization of various management concepts. The goal is to develop action oriented mindsets in our students. Hence, continuous emphasis is on the need of trying out ideas or concepts in real situations. In other words, we do not see ourselves as routine producers of MBAs, but as shapers of managerial minds.

Jaipuria Institute of Management was established by Integral Education Society at Lucknow in Uttar Pradesh. The Institute started functioning in the year 1995 offering Post Graduate Diploma in Management (approved by All India Council for Technical Education, Ministry of HRD, Govt. of India) has now become a trusted name amongst all its stake holders, namely, students, their parents, researchers, academicians, employers, other academic institutions offering higher level education. The key milestones it has crossed in the past 21 plus years of its existence are addition of three more programmes namely 3 year part-time Post Graduate Diploma in Management for working executives (1996), Post Graduate Diploma in Management (Retail Management)–2007 and Post Graduate Diploma in Management (Financial Services)–2008. The policy framework is made and decisions are taken by the Board of Governors and Academic Council comprising eminent industrialists and educationists. The management of the Institute is under the patronage of the Board of Governors comprising prominent personalities from industry, business and academics. The Chairman, Board of Governors, Mr. Sharad Jaipuria and the Vice Chairman, Mr. Shreevats Jaipuria, are committed to providing quality education so as to develop the students into successful & responsible business leaders.

Today the Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow is a place abuzz with activity, enthusiasm and hard work. It looks demure and quiet from outside but is bubbling with activity from inside. It has in fact come a long way since its inception in September, 1995- from rented premises, small classrooms to a sprawling campus. The classrooms are equipped with the best state-of-the-art equipment.

It was indeed an arduous journey to excellence and it continues even till today. The Institute seeks to get better and 'add value' to itself each passing day. The pedagogy, the standard of evaluation and the curriculum have undergone a sea-change. The faculty consistently adapts the courses and pedagogy to the changing corporate needs.

Jaipuria Institute of Management's Vision is: To promote human well being through effective management education. Our Mission is: To continuously upgrade and upscale the quality and spread of our educational endeavour.

1.1 Curriculum Design and Development

1.1.1 How are the institutional vision / mission reflected in the academic programmes of the College?

Higher education in any society is a major pillar of social and economic development and it is a major factor in socio-economic transformation. It is built for creation, acquisition and dissemination of knowledge, enhancement of employability skills and improvement of quality of wellbeing of humankind. Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow firmly cements its foundations in its celebrated ethos that true education is an act of intellectual awakening of a latent mind by filling it with fresh insights into the world. 'Learning with the mind, leading with the heart' is the guiding philosophy at the institute.

VISION

To promote human wellbeing through effective management education.

We firmly believe in the never-ending process of liberating a mind from the darkness of ignorance to the light of knowledge, new perspectives and deeper understanding. Essentially, all good education forms a support system for hidden talents to emerge and for the student to go on and excel in life. We aim to provide our students with a transformational experience; one that will liberate their minds, encourage them to think out of the box, to learn and imbibe the nuances of management practices, to innovate and to make informed choices.

MISSION

To continuously upgrade and upscale the quality and spread of our educational endeavour. An examination of our vision and mission statements would reveal that we continuously strive to:

- Promote the human wellbeing and engrain professional ethics, sustainability and inclusive growth in all its activities.
- Disseminate knowledge, employability skills and attitudes as well as imbibe human values in field of management.
- Continuously channelize our energies to upgrade and upscale the quality of education for raising the employability skills of our students through innovative management education programmes and providing opportunities for continuing education.
- To offer platforms of meaningful partnership for research and consultancy services so as to enhance the decision making skills and processes in corporate and academic institutions.
- To upscale the institute's operations and linkages with eminent management school in India and abroad and equip students for global business leadership.

Hence our vision and mission statements offer clarity and form the guiding light for all our institutional activities. Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow takes pride in sharing this with all the stakeholders. This is done for students during their Orientation Programme right at the outset of their course while general FDP is the platform for discussion on the same for faculty. There is a high level of integration between mission statement and strategic execution at the Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow. Our major goal is to develop competent managers with global, professional and entrepreneurial mindsets through innovative and relevant curricula.

At Jaipuria, our ethos is built around the student. The curriculum and pedagogy at Jaipuria makes the student, an active participant in the teaching-learning process. Our core values demonstrate our commitment of bringing transformation across the community through value-based education. They are our firm foundations that guide our intentions and the aspirations. They are the principles by which we act and lead. In living these core values, we will build a leading business school completely distinctive in its ability to add value to our society. Guided by our visionary leaders, we accept the responsibility to respect and uphold core values such as Empowerment, Leadership, Innovation, Integrity, Diversity, Community and Internationalization.

Directing all its energy and resources to achieve its vision and purpose, the Jaipuria group set up its first campus for imparting higher education at Lucknow city in the year 1995 with the institute offering an AICTE-approved two-year full time Post Graduate Diploma in Management, PGDM. Looking at the robust growth of retail sector and financial services sector, PGDM (Retail Management) was added in 2007 and PGDM (Financial Services) was added in 2008 to cater to the need of professionals in these vital sectors.

Today, Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow offers three AICTE-approved Post Graduate Diploma in Management programmes – PGDM, PGDM – Retail Management, and PGDM – Financial Services.

The 2-year full-time Post Graduate Diploma in Management (PGDM) programme, recognized by AIU (Association of Indian Universities) as equivalent to MBA, is designed to develop world class management professionals with a strong value system. Well established and perfected over a period of time, its industry-oriented syllabi and curriculum is constantly updated to remain contemporary as well as futuristic in orientation. This is done in order to groom managers for meeting the ever changing demands of global business. ‘Learning by doing’ methodology encourages our students to go beyond the class room and gain firsthand experience of managing in real world. Our student-centric approach provides flexibility to students to study courses of their choice and specialize in areas of their interest and choice from amongst a large number of elective and innovative courses offered.

The AICTE-approved 2-year full-time Post Graduate Diploma in Management in Retail Management, i.e. PGDM (RM), is a specialized programme with focus on the retail sector.

The programme aims at grooming professionals for managing the vast and the dynamic retail sector. This sector today offers the largest number of jobs and entrepreneurial opportunities both in the new-age economy as well as in the proven sectors such as banking, finance, insurance, FMCG, etc. The other uniqueness of this programme is that students may also combine it with a specialization in finance, marketing, human resources, information system and other domain areas.

The 2-year AICTE-approved full-time Post Graduate Diploma in Management in Financial Services i.e. PGDM (FS), is a management programme with special focus on financial services sector. The programme aims at grooming creative and energetic young professionals to manage the challenges of the vast size and diversity of the Indian and global financial market. No other job or function can parallel the exciting and fast growth & reward-oriented job and entrepreneurial opportunities in this sector. The students of this super-specialized course, PGDM (FS), have an edge over others in this regard. Another uniqueness of PGDM (FS) at our institute is that students of this programme may also combine with their specialization elective courses in finance, human resource management, information system, and others. This programme is also recognized as equivalent to MBA by AIU.

The institute promotes academic excellence among students. The passion to encourage students to think out of the box, to learn and imbibe the nuances of management practices, to innovate and to make informed choices was acknowledged when the institute was accredited as 'A' Grade by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) in 2012 and the Association of Indian Universities (AIU) granted an Equivalence Certificate to all the three programmes with MBA. Also all the 3 PGDM Programmes have received NBA accreditations in 2015. Another respectable Ranking by MHRD, NIRF has ranked it as 49th among the top B-Schools in the country.

Acknowledging the growing thrust of research and consultancy, Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow engages in research, faculty development programmes, student driven researches, industry integrated consultancy projects and related activities in almost all areas of management interest. We look forward to be recognized as one of the centers of academic and research excellence in the country and at par with the best institutions in the world. To achieve this, the Institute recognizes the need to enhance engagements with industrial & public sector organizations and develop sustainable long-term interactions with industry.

We look forward to forming a major interface with the wider academic and business world. We firmly believe that academics and research go hand in hand. While quality academic programmes bring visibility to the institute, quality research & consultancy brings credibility to the institute and its integration with the business community. It helps in improvement of skills and competencies based on a thorough understanding of the principles of management, recent advances in the field of management and methods of conducting research and inquiry with rigour in scientific way. The institute is also publishing a refereed research journal to encourage the faculty for quality research work as well as to participate and share their research output. We are also promoting the collaborative research jointly with all the leading academic institutions across the country. Company/industries problems on various researchable issues are always welcome through its rich intellectual capital.

1.1.2 Describe the mechanism used in the design and development of the curriculum? Give details on the process. (Need Assessment, Feedback, etc)

Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow offers three AICTE approved two year full time PGDM, PGDM (Retail Management), PGDM (Financial Services) programmes. All programmes are divided into six trimesters of approximately ten weeks duration each. During the first year students are taught an array of core courses which form the basic pillars of management education. In the second year (trimesters fourth to sixth) students pursue in detail, the courses of interest through specialization(s) offered in the programmes.

Along with the courses, the students need to undergo a Summer Internship Project between April and June after completion of the third trimester. All the academic planning & delivery stages are orientated to demonstrate the cherished core values of leadership, integrity, empowerment, decision making skills, effective communication and diversity.

The course curriculum is designed and reviewed every year in alignment with Jaipuria's Vision and Mission statements and to ensure relevance and quality of contents, pedagogy of delivery and learning outcomes. The courses offered are meticulously drafted and periodically reviewed and revised at regular intervals at the Academic Area level. The process of curriculum development is affected by a host of factors. A curriculum has to be developed as per the basic framework prescribed by the academic regulator (AICTE). It has to be followed by need assessment with the help of industry professionals, academic experts and alumni. The framework and industry needs are discussed at the institute level in the Faculty Council. The Faculty Council and Academic Areas are like statutory academic bodies in a university system. After several iterations, the curriculum is developed. Afterwards courses are developed and validated by the industry and academic experts.

Course Design and Review: The course outlines are designed by the task force constituted across the Academic Areas and after incorporating the feedbacks of the stakeholders it is presented in the Annual area meeting of campus conducted in summers wherein the audience comprises of the faculty members of campus from the particular area, guests from industry and eminent academicians. Brainstorming is done on each and every aspect of the course outline (course learning outcomes, evaluation criteria, text and references, web/other resources and session plans) to ensure learning outcomes are clearly defined and mapped as per the course objectives. The finalized course outline is used by all faculty members teaching the particular course.

Feedback: After completion of each course an online structured feedback form is required to be filled by the students wherein they give a feedback on the course, its stated learning outcomes, course material, pedagogy, and instructor effectiveness. This is shared with faculty members to provide feedback on their effectiveness. We also receive additional online feedback before the mid-term examination, so as to allow for corrective actions if the course learning objectives are not being met. Feedback is also collated from the Industry experts visiting the campus for guest sessions in courses, conclaves, seminars, etc. The Training and Placement (T&P) department also collates the feedback from alumni of the institute and recruiters to ensure the course coverage and delivery meets the Industry requirements.

Curriculum Architecture: Based upon the need assessment and the course revision annual exercise, the alignment is built-in at the Programme. The salient points are as follows:

- To empower students with the required skills for professional progression, each programme has 108 credits.
- Each session is of 75 minutes consisting of 30 class contact hours or 24 sessions.

Programme Architecture: PGDM and PGDM (Financial Services) programmes have a total of 108 credits, of which 66 credits correspond to core courses, 30 credits correspond to elective courses, and 6 credits are for Summer Internship Project. The PGDM (Retail Management) also has 108 credits of which 69 correspond to core courses, 27 credits correspond to elective courses and 6 credits are for Summer Internship Project. Two 3-credit courses - 'General Awareness & Current Affairs' and 'Training & Industry Interface Programme' - have been introduced from the current academic year. After the completion of first year, students are allowed to choose their specialization of interest and the courses they are interested in. This emphasizes the knowledge and skill component necessitated for effective decision making at the corporate level.

Orientation Programme: A detailed orientation programme of about two-weeks is organized for the students joining the institute. The objective of this comprehensive programme is orienting them about the challenges of PGDM, requirements of the industry, shift in methodology required for doing a professional course, how they can prepare themselves for challenging job environment and an introduction to the Jaipuria ethos. The programme includes informational sessions like sessions by experts, panel discussions, motivational sessions, and remedial classes for essential subjects and learning by doing by using cases in class along with various team building and fun activities like ice-breaking session, yoga, art of living, theatre workshop, CSR activities, movie screening, dramatics, sports, leadership programme, talent hunt and Spic-Macay events.

Experiential Learning: To inculcate learning-by-doing each course offers multiple tools of experiential learning. In addition Summer Internship Project and Live projects add to the corporate exposure of students.

Course Material: Each student is provided the Academic Calendar, detailed course outline and prescribed text book in each course at commencement of the trimester. Soft copy of presentations, articles, cases and additional readings are shared with students through use of Moodle.

Assessment: The Institute believes and practices continuous feedback on performance and follows a system of continuous assessment. The evaluation components are spread over entire trimester and focus is on evaluating students' performance as an individual as well as a team player.

- Continuous Assessment: Performance of students is continuously evaluated during the trimester through his/her participation in class, case studies, quizzes, assignment, presentation, term paper, field project, etc. The instructor can design appropriate method of evaluation as per the requirements of the course and method of instruction. It carries a 40 percent weightage in total evaluation.
- Term Examinations: It is compulsory to hold mid-term and end-term examinations, the dates of which are mentioned in the Institute's academic calendar. In total term examinations carry 60% weightage of which 20% is for midterm examination and 40% for end-term examination.

Academic Integrity: The students enrolled at the Institute are required to maintain the highest standards of academic honesty. All the academic planning & delivery stages demonstrate the cherished core values of leadership, integrity, empowerment, decision making skills, effective communication and diversity.

Second IDP also evaluates the summer internship project of the student and it forms an integral part of SIP evaluation.

1.1.4 How are the following aspects ensured through curriculum design and development?

- Employability
- Innovation
- Research

Employability is the hallmark of any good management programme. Employability at the Institute is ensured through a two-fold strategy. First, curricula of the different programmes are made relevant and cutting-edge as explained earlier. Curricula are designed in sync with the needs of the industry. Further, courses are validated by experts from the academe and industry. Secondly, mentoring scheme is intended at enhancing the employability of students. In this scheme, students are imparted training on group discussion, personal interview and aptitude practices. They are also given personal counseling to groom their personality. Additional courses on communication are also offered. Finally, guest lectures are organized to help students understand the needs of the corporate world and develop themselves accordingly. The Institute organizes special tutorials for students in different verticals. For example, various sessions were organized on advanced excel, six sigma, analytics, etc. for the previous batches.

Specifically the following interventions take care of employability acumen of the graduates as:

- a) Pedagogy: Each course is developed under a well-established mechanism of incorporating opinions of various stakeholders to ensure that it is in sync with the best global practices and also takes care of the desired skills and attitudes required by the industry during placements. For instilling employability skills and practical orientation, the students are exposed to various pedagogical tools as exercises, case, field visits, field projects, individual and group presentations. Course pedagogy allows flexibility to instructor to choose components of continuous evaluation based on the course learning outcomes. For example a role play may be required in the courses of Marketing and OB, whereas projects may be more suitable to test numerical acumen, and simulation games may be preferable in the course of Strategy. So through an array of continuous evaluation components students get to develop and hone their managerial skills.

b) Industry Interface: Industry interface helps a lot in development of managerial skills of the students and bringing Industry relevant learning to them. The following are the Industry interventions used in the Institute:

- Industry Visits: There is an academic field study for all first year students wherein they visit work stations of reputed organization under the supervision of faculty members. The students are encouraged to interact with the Industry experts and are required to make a report upon return.
- Industry Mentoring: Each study group is allotted one Industry mentor who along with the faculty mentor perseveres to help the mentees understand the nuances of the Industry and make them more employable.
- Guest Sessions: Guest sessions are organized periodically to ensure students get to know the corporate practices and are able to link theory and practice. In each course there is a compulsory requirement to invite guests from Industry for at least two sessions. In addition corporate guests are invited at various forums (Conclaves, Conferences, Club/Committee activities, Panel Discussions, etc.) throughout the year.
- Live Projects: In order to facilitate development of managerial skills among students, various live projects are offered to students based on their areas of interest.
- SIP: Summer internship project (SIP) is a six credit course to be undertaken after third trimester for a period of eight weeks. Students are required to submit the certificate of completion of Summer Internship before Registration for second year. In case of delay in submission of the certificate of completion of the summer project, provisional registration to the second year may be permitted by the Chairperson of each programme, subject to obtaining the certificate within a specified period time.
- IDP: Panel of Industry expert and faculty interview students before and after SIP to identify their potential, strengths and weakness and based on these inputs suggest areas of improvement and a possible career path. Each student is required to fill Individual Assessment Form which is reviewed by the panel. Based on the recommendations of the panel, specific development needs of students are identified and their individual development plan is formulated. Second IDP also evaluates the summer internship of student.

c) Workshops/ Training:

- Pre-SIP Workshop: The students undergo a week long pre-SIP workshop in the third trimester. The workshop aims to sensitize them with the requirements of Summer Internship and aims to help them understand the intricacies of same with the twin objective of doing effective internship and producing a conclusive research report.

- Orientation and Re-orientation Workshops: In order to help students in developing managerial skills workshops are conducted at the time students join the PGDM programme which is followed by one more structured workshop when they join back in fourth trimester after SIP.
 - Sub-Cohort Training: In order to ensure that students have relevant and up to date knowledge of the Industry they are interested in, the institute's training and placement department trains students with the help of faculty members and industry experts based on their specific area of interest. Students are grouped based on their sub-cohort like (FMCG, BFSI, Consultancy etc.), for each of their chosen specialization and imparted specific and specialized training.
 - Pre-Placement Training: The training and placement department with the help of faculty members and experts from Industry regularly conduct training sessions to increase employability skills of the students. These pre-placement sessions are both general and specific to companies coming to the institute for recruitment.
- d) MDPs: Senior manager participants in MDPs programmes are also great source of inspiration for our faculty when they interact and deliver training workshop with them. This process enhances the delivery mechanism of the faculty on regular basis and helps in understanding the emerging corporate requirements.
- e) Club/Committee Activities: The students are engaged in managing cultural as well as corporate events which give them an opportunity to get practical exposure. The Institute organizes various annual events like IIC (management conference), Conclaves (functional area conclaves), Ojas (management festival), and various club and committees also plan their events specific to their theme and interest. Music, drama, poetry and appreciation of the rich Indian cultural heritage through a series of programmes are organized in the campus every year in association with SPIC MACAY. Students are encouraged to participate in co-curricular and extra-curricular activities of the other institutes and professional bodies.
- f) Student Exchange Programme: Student exchange programme has become an important learning tool in management programmes. The institute has MoUs with leading Universities of the world, which allows students to get an international exposure, understand differences in management problems and solutions and appreciate cross-cultural differences. Under the Uncampus initiative also, a Jaipuria student gets the opportunity to study for one trimester in any of the other Jaipuria campuses. Students are also benefitting immensely from the Faculty exchange programme.

* Innovation

The institute is focused upon inculcating an innovative learning environment at the campus. We not only invite innovations in the field of Teaching-Learning process but also start-ups and new ventures. The institute has set up an Entrepreneurial & Innovation Cell.

Since students who have brilliant ideas of starting their small businesses and operations must be guided and nurtured well, this would bring about integrated qualities of all the specializations and nurture mental ability to think differently with an entrepreneurial bent of mind.

We also invite the entrepreneurs during course work as well as annual E-week activity. Besides, industry mentorship programme offers a unique opportunity of one-on-one discussions with each mentee. Also IDP (Individual Development Programme) sessions are conducted for the students to abreast the students with the latest developments in different economic sectors with a feedback of the skill requirements for each student. The corporate exposure during orientation and reorientation programmes also offers a close involvement of the students with the corporate stakeholders.

1.1.6 To what extent does the College use the guidelines of the regulatory bodies for developing or restructuring the curricula? Has the College been instrumental in leading any curricular reform which has created a national impact?

The courses offered are meticulously drafted and periodically reviewed and revised at regular intervals at the Academic Area level. The process of curriculum development is affected by a host of factors. A curriculum has to be developed as per the basic framework prescribed by the academic regulator (In our case, the AICTE). It has to be followed by need assessment with the help of industry and academic experts and alumni. We follow both the processes. The framework and industry needs are discussed in Faculty Council. After several iterations, the curriculum is developed. Afterwards courses are developed and validated by the industry and academic experts.

Faculty Council and Academic Areas are like statutory academic bodies in a university system.

We are quite focused in upholding corporate-centric and student-centric approach to Teaching-Learning process. Majority of courses use experiential learning as the prime teaching-learning tool / approach. The techniques of experiential learning are: case, exercise, simulation, field visit, field project, managerial interview, etc. There is a course design policy that stresses on the development of learning outcomes, following Bloom's taxonomy and design of a course, using various techniques of experiential learning. As a course is designed at the Academic Area level, the members ensure that experiential learning is used as the primary method of teaching-learning process. Ethics and environment are the running themes of different programmes. In other words, issues related to ethics and values are deliberated upon in the different courses. Inputs on ethics are also given during induction programme.

We have also introduced a pioneering concept of go-to-the-market approach in the course of Marketing Management-II which has received national acclaim and has been judged among the Top-3 management innovations in pedagogy at Indian Management Conclave 2016 held at IIM-Ahmedabad.

1.4.2 Does the College elicit feedback on the curriculum from national and international faculty? If yes, specify a few methods adopted to do the same - (conducting webinar, workshop, online forum discussion etc.). Give details of the impact of such feedback.

Curriculum review is a yearly exercise at the Institute. The Institute has various domain areas comprising of faculty of the concerned areas in place. Respective domain areas designate an Anchor Faculty for each course offered by the area. The anchor faculty shares the course outline (containing course content and structure, pedagogy and evaluation framework, etc) with national/international academicians for their comments and suggestions in the light of latest developments in management education. The anchor faculty compiles such comments and suggestions. These inputs are discussed in detail at the domain area level before forwarding the same for annual review process which takes place in summer break. Eminent academicians are also invited to be part of annual review process. After incorporating the collectively-agreed changes, the curriculum is updated in accordance with latest trends in management education at premier B-schools of India and abroad.

1.4.3 Specify the mechanism through which alumni, employers, industry experts and community give feedback on curriculum enrichment and the extent to which it is made use of.

Feedback is taken from alumni on the individual course outlines as well as overall curriculum through email. In addition, course architecture is tabled for rigorous review and discussion during Annual General Meeting of alumni at Lucknow, and Mumbai, Kolkata, New Delhi and Bangalore chapter meets.

Employers/recruiters are requested to give their feedback on the curriculum when they visit our campus for summer and final placement interviews. They also give feedback on students' performance pertaining to domain knowledge, business awareness, and managerial acumen. They also highlight the areas of improvement which are taken into consideration while revising and updating the curriculum for ensuing year.

Industry experts are frequently invited to the campus for interaction with students and faculty. They discuss emerging requirements of the corporate world and also suggest necessary changes in the curriculum. Corporate captains are also engaged in student mentoring and Individual Development Programme (IDP) process for students. IDP is a significant initiative towards profiling and planning for overall development of students as elaborated earlier.

Solicitation and documentation of feedback from alumni, recruiters and industry experts is continuous process which goes on round the year. Such feedbacks are compiled and put for further review and discussion during the annual review process.

1.4.4 What are the quality sustenance and quality enhancement measures undertaken by the institution in ensuring effective development of the curricula?

The institute has multiple mechanisms for sustenance and enhancement of quality in the process of development of curricula. The Board of Governors, comprising of industry doyens and eminent academicians, guides the development of broad framework for designing and refining the curriculum in order to meet our primary goal of producing competent managers with global, professional and entrepreneurial mindset. The Academic Council provides guidelines for continuous updating of the curriculum in light of latest developments in the field of management education. The Faculty Council, led by the Institute Director, is harbinger of entire process of academic review and curriculum development. It seeks guidelines and suggestions from the Board of Governors and the Academic Council and ensures their effective implementation through different domain areas and functional heads.

Since faculty members are one of the key players in the process of development and refinement of curricula, the institute undertakes various measures to upgrade their academic skills and competencies. Domain-specific Faculty Development Programs are organized to enhance the capability of faculty in delivering the desired output. Faculty members are also nominated to attend faculty development programs organized at prominent institutions in India. In addition, faculty members are sponsored to participate in national and international seminars and conferences to update their academic skills and quality. The Institute awards Seed Money grants to faculty members to undertake applied research and case development. On-campus research seminars are also organized for the faculty to sharpen their research skills. Off-campus faculty development programs are organized on yearly basis, during summers, in which domain experts, industry experts and corporate leaders are invited to interact with faculty members. These measures have helped in comprehensive development of the faculty resources of the Institute who are the key players in the process of curriculum development and delivery.

In order to track and ensure the quality academic delivery, the Institute has an Academic Audit Committee (AAC) in place. The AAC is headed by the Dean-Academics with other Deans, Program Chairs, Chairs of Functional Areas and some senior faculty as members. Current composition of AAC is described below:

2.1 Student Enrolment and Profile

2.1.1 How does the College ensure publicity and transparency in the admission process?

The Institute follows a highly transparent process of admission and ensures that the stakeholders are informed through proper channels on a wide platform using all possible methods. Every year an admission brochure is published containing the details of the Institute, faculty, programmes, assessment, fees, placement, etc. The Institute has an active website and the students can also apply for a programme on-line. Admission notice is published in national dailies like Hindustan Times, Hindustan, Dainik Jagran and Times of India, while it is also published in regional dailies, like Telegraph and Tribune. Jaipuria Institute of Management acknowledges the growth of social media as a powerful platform of information dissemination and has leveraged it to reach out to the prospective candidates through its Facebook page and twitter account. We have also launched an App 'Jaipuria One' to facilitate the information sharing at a single point. The Institute has students hailing from several states of India. It is this mix of various regions of India with diversified cultural backgrounds, academic and professional experiences which makes its campuses one of the most exciting and enriching business schools in India.

The Institute uses CAT /XAT/MAT/CMAT/ATMA for selection of students as such it is felt that all the details of these entrance examinations are in open domain and are well accepted in various reputed Institutes all over India. These tests are conducted by IIM's, XLRI, AIMA, AICTE and Association of Indian Management Schools respectively. The complete information about them lies in public domain which ensures transparency.

2.1.2 Explain in detail the process of admission put in place for UG, PG and Ph.D. programmes by the College. Explain the criteria for admission (Ex. (i) merit, (ii) merit with entrance test, (iii) merit, entrance test and interview, (iv) common test conducted by state agencies and national agencies (v) others followed by the College?

Every year Institute forms an admission committee which is duly represented by an Admission Chairperson, Faculty members and student representative of student excellence council. Admission committee takes all decision regarding selection criteria, fees, marketing plans, scholarship and its criteria etc.

The Institute uses CAT /XAT/MAT/CMAT/ATMA for selection of students. These tests are conducted by IIM's, XLRI, AIMA, AICTE and Association of Indian Management Schools respectively. The complete information about them lies in public domain which ensures transparency.

The Institute has clearly stated its criteria as well as general guidelines for conducting case analysis and personal interview. These criteria and general guidelines are followed by expert panelist when they conduct admission process at outstation locations and at Lucknow campus. The guidelines state clearly the timeline and criteria for conducting case analysis & personal interviews. The students for our three PGDM programmes are selected on the basis of their performance in national entrance/competitive tests, past academic performance, work experience and their performance in Case Analysis and Personal Interview. Evaluation format is attached at Annexure B.2.1.

2.1.3 Does the College have a mechanism to review its admission process and student profiles annually? If yes, what is the outcome of such an analysis and how has it contributed to the improvement of the process?

The admission process and students' profiles are reviewed after each cycle and the expectations are built in for the next cycle. The Admission policy is followed for different procedures during admission process. The processes are consistently reviewed by Admission Committee. The entire admission process at various stages like admission announcement, publication of the institute's information bulletin, advertisements in the leading newspapers for more exposure in public domain, online applications for admissions, short listing of probable candidates, holding of CA & PI, and issuance of offer letters demonstrate our adherence and promotion of stated values of integrity, transparency, and professionalism in our conduct. The profile of applicants for a particular cycle is matched with the previous cycle to map the quality increment.

The academic rigour and industry connect is visible to the stakeholders who are appreciative of the pace of change that the institute has embarked upon in the last couple of years. This is reflected in the positive rise of the demand ratio.

2.1.7 Was there an instance of the College discontinuing a programme during last four years? If yes, indicate the reasons.

None of the post Graduate programmes have been discontinued in the last four years.

2.2 Catering to Student Diversity

2.2.1 Does the College organize orientation / induction programme for freshers? If yes, give details of the duration of programme, issues covered, experts involved and mechanism for using the feedback in subsequent years.

Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow organizes a comprehensive 2 Weeks orientation cum induction programme for every batch of PGDM students. The objective of this programme is to prepare them for the rigorous schedule and experiential methods of learning practiced in management education. Furthermore, through this process an effort is made to bring students together on a similar platform. The Orientation and Induction Program's is also aimed to familiarize the students with faculty, staff, and their peers as well as with the processes, systems, and culture of the institute in order to equip them with some basic knowledge and tools that will help them adapt to the challenging life as a post-graduate management student. The Orientation programme is spread over a time period of 2 weeks and consists of a series of fun, informative, networking, and academic activities before the formal beginning of the first trimester. The Orientation Program also involves the process of identifying students' critical skills essential for participation in management teaching classes and for them to get inducted into a meaningful corporate life. Large number of experts from academics & industry are invited to interact with students on a formal basis on topics that are relevant for their professional growth. Feedback from subsequent years is used to make the programme more value adding and relevant.

2.2.2 Does the College have a mechanism through which the "differential requirements of student population" are analyzed after admission and before the commencement of classes? If so, how are the key issues identified and addressed?

One to one interaction under 'Uncovering your leadership sessions' during the Orientation Programme is undertaken with each individual student in order to find out differential requirements of students and identify their strengths and weakness. This helps to formulate the future development plan for each individual student. It also provides the faculty panelists with a first-hand insight into the credentials and aspirations of the students. This goes a long way in helping the faculty and CMC team to introspect on the line of action to be taken in teaching, training, and mentoring the students to success.

2.2.3 Does the College provide bridge /Remedial /add - on courses? If yes, how are they structured into the time table? Give details of the courses offered, department-wise/faculty-wise?

Foundation classes on accounting, quantitative techniques and IT fundamentals are held during the Orientation Programme to familiarize the students with the basic concepts of these subjects. This serves as a bridge for those students who come with diverse backgrounds and are not familiar with these fundamentals.

During the first year two courses namely GACA (General Awareness & Current Affairs) & TIIP (Training and Industry interphase programme) have in addition been offered to the students as regular add on courses and are duly embedded in the time table.

2.2.4 Has the College conducted a study on the incremental academic growth of different categories of students; - student from disadvantaged sections of society, economically disadvantaged, physically challenged and slow learners etc.? If yes, give details on how the study has helped the College to improve the performance of these students.

The Institute does not have on record any educationally disadvantaged or slow students. However, the Institute does offer provision for tutorials, in special circumstances. The students reach out to Programme Chairperson or Dean (Academics) with the topics that require extra inputs and the tutorial sessions are arranged in consultation with the course faculty.

However, the students are subjected to IDP (Individual Development Programme) to measure their managerial abilities and employability as the course progresses. On the basis of assessment, feedback is given to the students and extra inputs are also provided to them to help them improve and grow. The institute has designed a well-knit system of in-class and beyond-class engagement using technology like Impartus and Moodle. The student can view the class lectures at their own convenience of hostel and come up with their queries in the next session as they meet the faculty. A formal mentoring system is also in place where designated Faculty Mentors provide mentoring to a small group of students.

2.2.5 How does the institution identify and respond to the learning needs of advanced learners?

The faculty is professionally sensitive to the needs of the advanced learners who take up extra assignments and work upon them for the extra edge that they seek. The interventions in the class makes the learning process quite an exciting one with their peers. Besides, the Institute has a well-laid out mentoring system and there is a course on Training & Industry Interface which is a credit course. There are well laid sessions that map the skills and impart the right blend of holistic knowledge that the students seek. Each faculty member is assigned about ten students whom he or she mentors to help them grow academically, professionally and personally.

2.2.6 How does the institution cater to the needs of differently-abled students and ensure adherence to government policies in this regard?

We have facilitating physical infrastructure, for easy access to the learning and general amenities within the college premises and support the unique needs of differently-able students.

The mentors and programme directors also take care of the social-psychological needs of differently-abled students.

2.3 Teaching-Learning Process

2.3.1 How does the College plan and organize the teaching, learning and evaluation schedules? (Academic calendar, teaching plan and evaluation blue print, etc.)

Our pursuit for excellence in Academic processes is achieved through the multi-layered activities that are continuously benchmarked against the best practices around the globe. It is reflected in the academic programs as well as course review process, its delivery and matching it with the learning outcomes achieved. Similarly continuous upgradation is done in the achievement of administrative and community extension activities. Further, every year, faculty meets over 3-4 days of workshop where courses to be delivered in the upcoming academic year are reviewed. The workshop also focuses on building a common understanding and acceptance of the core values of the institution which form a firm standing in its growth. Strong thrust on developing relevant and innovative curricula with a view to produce competent managers with global, professional and entrepreneurial mindsets reflect our ownership of core values in the academic planning and delivery processes.

Board of Governors brings in the collective pool of knowledge and an insight of future of higher education in India. The Faculty Council which forms the apex of the academic processes at the institute level oversees the planning and implementation of the process in alignment with respective Area. The course content and pedagogy is innovated every year to assure the up-keeping of the stated values. The Institute publishes an academic calendar every year. It is prepared by the joint committee of programme chairpersons in consultation with the different departments of the Institute under the supervision of Academic Dean. It is notified to the students using online platform (Moodle, etc.). The academic calendar is strictly adhered to. In addition, time table for different terms is issued in the beginning of a term. Minor modifications can be made in the time table to adjust to the emerging needs. The evaluation criterion for every individual course is communicated to students right at the beginning of the course through the course outline. The detailed evaluation blue print about mid term and term end exams is communicated to students at the beginning of the programme through the academic manual.

2.3.2 Does the College provide course outlines and course schedules prior to the commencement of the academic session? If yes, how is the effectiveness of the process ensured?

Each student is provided the Academic Calendar, detailed course outline and prescribed text book in each course at commencement of the trimester. Soft copy of presentations, articles, cases and additional readings are shared with students through use of Moodle. The Programme Director of each programme ensures the availability of learning resources in collaboration with Academic Area Chair under the supervision of Academic Dean. There is an independent Programme Management Centre that facilitates this process. Besides the IT department takes care of the online resource management and complaint redressal process to ensure the connectivity between the various stakeholders in the learning process.

2.3.3 What are the courses, which predominantly follow the lecture method? Apart from classroom interactions, what are the other methods of learning experiences provided to students?

Only a few courses, such as, Macro-economics & Business Environment and Legal Aspects of Management use lecture cum discussion as a predominant method.. In order to facilitate learning various components are included to augment classroom teaching like extensive use of Case Studies, Role Play, Simulation, Quizzes, Presentations, role plays, individual and group projects, independent research, field visits, sessions by subject matter experts, preparation of Business Plans, panel discussion, flipped classroom and learning logs, etc. are also used. The teaching pedagogy at the Institute is essentially student centric and experiential. Much emphasis is laid upon the student

2.3.4 How is 'learning' made more student-centric? Give a list of participatory learning activities adopted by the faculty that contribute to holistic development and improved student learning, besides facilitating life-long learning and knowledge management.

Learning at the Institute is student-centric. Teachers are the facilitators of learning. The students are made aware that the onus of learning is on them and instructors are facilitator for and resource of learning. Lecture method is generally teacher-centric; therefore, we place less emphasis on lecture. The emphasis of the curricula is not to deliver loads of contents; rather, the instructors prefer to deliver what is fundamental and vital and encourage the students to learn on their own. Specifically, the following participatory learning techniques are used in the different programmes:

- Case
- Role play
- Simulation
- Exercise & Quizzes
- Field study project
- Student presentation
- Industry interaction
- Project Based Learning (PBL)

To inculcate employability skills in the students, it is always mandated to offer hands-on experience to the students in all possible manners during the delivery of course curriculum. To create student centric environment, the role of the faculty is that of facilitator during the conduct of the classes. The institution lays great emphasis on offering opportunities in form of field assignments in majority of courses, industrial visits, live projects, Summer Internship Programme, simulation games in management where students work in a team which simulates a real organization in an industry and take similar decisions as that of a corporate. In order to ensure students get a knack of working in teams to build interpersonal and leadership qualities. At the time of joining students are divided into homogeneous mix of five to six students and the group thus formed is known as learning team. The group is permanent across different courses and activities in the first year of the programme. The purpose of creating such groups is that the group members would actively and intensively learn from one another through working together on a variety of tasks and develop teamwork and social skills. The learning teams are required in each course to do group assignments, presentations, field work, etc. together which further helps each student to learn from other group members. In addition, the Institute facilitates Industry relevant learning to students through regular interventions. The most prominent of all is the Summer Internship Programme (SIP) which is a six credit course to be undertaken after third trimester for a period eight weeks. In order to ensure the benefits of summer internship are reaped fully, the institute organizes a rigorous pre-SIP workshop. The workshop is conducted in the third trimester to sensitize students with the requirements of Summer Internship and would help them with the intricacies of same with the twin objective of doing effective internship and producing a conclusive research report. The institute organizes functional area specific conclaves, panel discussions, lectures, and conferences which help students understand the practical side of business. Students are encouraged to identify and communicate with the Industry experts, coordinate and plan these events which in turn help them gain confidence and plan a development path for themselves.

Furthermore Industry interventions like guest sessions, live projects, Industry mentoring, Industrial visits, Individual Development Plans (IDP), Orientation and reorientation programmes, pre-placement trainings are regular feature of the institute and allow for bridging the gap between theory and practice. The institute promotes students to organize and manage institute's events through various committees and they are also encouraged to participate in co-curricular and extracurricular activities of the other institutes and professional bodies. The students are also offered an experience of simulation games which are integrative in nature and focus on developing analytical and strategic skills in students.

2.3.5 What is the College policy on inviting experts / people of eminence to provide lectures / seminars for students?

The corporate exposure begins right from the entry stage and corporate are invited during orientation and reorientation programmes which offers a close involvement of the students with the corporate stakeholders. The institute ensures a regular contact programme with corporate experts, visiting faculties, leading entrepreneurs, recruiters, alumni, MDP participants among others to help in ensuring best in class programme design and delivery. The guest talks in each course as well as industry interaction and field visits are regular feature of most of the courses. They also involve mentoring, offering live projects as well as IDPs for students for providing hands on training. Industry people also join for guest talks in each course and also induction programme. Besides, industry mentorship programme offers a unique opportunity of one-on-one discussions with each mentee. The IDP (Individual Development Programme) sessions are conducted for the students to abreast the students with the latest developments in the different economic sectors with a feedback of the skill requirements for each student. The participation of the employers in the orientation Programme as well as during Individual Development Programmes greatly supports our teaching and learning process. The IDP panel which has industry representatives in them evaluates the student. Both the industry and academic mentors submit evaluation sheets for each student. Faculty takes into account the findings of corporate and brings them during class discussions, tutorials etc.

We also invite the entrepreneurs during course work as well as annual E-week activity. Conference, Seminars and Conclaves are another opportunity of industry interaction. Special emphasis is placed to invite the corporate experts as session panelists in various conclaves and conferences organized by the institute.

2.3.6 What are the latest technologies and facilities used by the faculty for effective teaching? Ex: Virtual laboratories, e-learning, open educational resources, mobile education, etc.

The classes are equipped with modern audio-visual equipment. We have also installed Video-based Learning platform, Impartus that enables educators to capture, edit, and distribute content. This innovative learning solution drives better outcomes for the management education. An Integrative Learning App is in the process of development that will bring all the processes and content under a single touch point.

The Institute has three computer labs which are used for computer-based learning. At times videography is also used for communication classes. Propriety computer based simulation business games, are also used for advancing learning.

We have Virtual Learning Environment (Moodle) which makes it easy for student engagement beyond class-room and provides online support for learning in a course. Providing a central space on the web where students, faculty and staff can access a set of tools and resources anytime anywhere. Staff and students of the Department have found most valuable aspects like a quick way to share documents, Discussion Forums, Online assignment handling etc.

OLT installed in the Computer Lab Server and its accessible from anywhere within the campus network, students appear in online tests administered through this application and results of Examination and Internal marks are also recorded and archived and student also give their feedback on teaching.

2.3.7 Is there a provision for the services of counselors / mentors/ advisors for each class or group of students for academic, personal and psycho-socio guidance? If yes, give details of the process and the number of students who have benefitted.

The institute offers mentorship support to all its students to encourage the students to develop their personal growth agenda. All the students in first year and second year (effectively 600) avail the support of their respective faculty mentors. Right from Orientation programme, we have dedicated mentoring sessions wherein the respective mentors take ethical issues of businesses to sensitize the mentees with the responsibilities of businesses to the community, nation and world at large. The faculty mentor helps the student understand their strength area as well as highlight their areas of improvement. The outcome of this leads to building a personal development agenda during one-on-one interaction. Mentors guide their mentees in their own ways, so as to ensure that mentees always tread on the right path and are not trapped by the glittering path which shows unethical ways of achieving the aims. These mentors guide students in the planning and conducting their research projects. They also evaluate the performance and the project quality of the student. Besides, each student is allotted an Industry Mentor during their summer internship from the organisation that they pursue it in. The Industry mentorship programme caters to professional development needs of a student. These mentors help students in understanding the industry expectations and growth in their chosen career paths.

The entire mentoring process is of great benefit to students from an academic as well as personal and emotional viewpoint. The rewarding residential experience including dedicated mentoring sessions for students is a foundation of the culture we believe in, which includes teamwork and the building of lifelong relationships.

2.3.8 Are there any innovative teaching approaches/methods/ practices adopted/put to use by the faculty during the last four years? If yes, did they improve the learning? What methods were used to evaluate the impact of such practices? What are the efforts made by the institution in giving the faculty due recognition for innovation in teaching?

Strong thrust on developing relevant and innovative curricula with a view to produce competent managers with global, professional and entrepreneurial mindsets reflect our ownership of core values in the academic planning and delivery processes. Well established and perfected over a period of time, its industry oriented syllabi and curriculum is constantly updated to remain contemporary as well as futuristic in orientation in order to groom managers to be ready to meet the ever changing demands of global business. 'Learning by doing' methodology encourages our students to go beyond the class room and gain firsthand experience of managing in real world. Our student-centric approach provides flexibility to students to study courses of their choice and earn dual specialization from amongst a large number of elective and innovative courses available.

Based on the previous experiences during placement seasons as well as continuous feedback of the recruiters, alumni and graduating students about academia- industry disconnect, Jaipuria Institute of Management embarked upon a tough call of curriculum review from a totally new perspective in summers of 2015.

The major challenges were:

- o How to ingrain and assure the required learning outcomes among the management graduates to bridge the gap of academia-industry disconnect?
- o How to upscale the job profile of graduating students as well as entry level compensation that is par excellence in industry while inculcating the graduate attributes sought by the recruiters in job market that was getting tougher?

Set against this backdrop, a high voltage brain storming session was conducted with representations from industry, placement department, top management to get on to the genesis of the problem. The outcome of the brain storming session was an innovative initiative that took a tectonic drift from conventional faculty-centered and student-centered approach of curriculum review to the 'industry-centric approach' which was diametrically different and far beyond. Since the larger pool of outgoing batch consisted of aspirants for the marketing & sales job profile, it was decided to initiate redesigning the Marketing Area curriculum, with industry representatives taking the charge of this process. The entire basket of core and elective courses in Area of Marketing was screened through the lens of industry relevance. The gaps became wide clear, indicating a radical change in the offing. The initial task was to develop a new basket of core and elective courses in marketing area institution-wide framework for teaching and learning that reflects the tangible expected learning outcomes for students.

A dedicated team of leading industry representatives led this innovative initiative. They clearly spelled out the industry aspirations of the graduates coming out of B-schools. This led to re-define the graduate attributes and closely realign the course design and delivery process to reflect the set of skills demanded by the recruiters. Multiple industry and faculty interventions were done to provide an anchor to monitor the coherent set of initiatives - at institution, programme and course level - and track the intended learning outcomes in the fundamental course of Marketing Management.

Top management soon formed in a core task force of 11 members in early April 2015 comprising of industry representatives, members of placement team, directors of the campuses including Vice Chairman to crystallize the bouquet of courses to be offered in the Area of Marketing from the lens of industry requirements of graduate attributes and job-positions at the entry level. The industry representatives were offered a clean slate to sketch their thoughts on course contents, pedagogies of delivery and evaluation mechanism of learning outcomes of a respective course in marketing. This was then brought out to the senior faculty members of marketing area (including 4 Deans of campuses) in May 2016 at Noida campus. It was a prime case of 'role reversal' wherein the industry representatives were drafting their thoughts on a course with modular contents. The course contents were completely based upon corporate practices and requirements of skill sets by the industry. A very close interaction followed in after each presentation of the 10 selected course outlines by the industry representatives, turn by turn. The academia representatives took their turn of injecting foundational concepts that were partially attended during the course outline presentation. The relevance of each course concept, pedagogy and evaluation mechanism was put to litmus test before academia representatives took the further handholding to fine tune the course as per academic guidelines of the institute.

A complete revamp of the course of Marketing Management was done in which the first course (MM-I) was to be built around conceptual knowledge and second course (MM-II) had to be completely field based.

Marketing Management-I: The course on MM-I was to build on theoretical framework and stretched from 24 sessions (30 hours) delivery to 40 sessions. Its 8 modules used a rich blend of evaluation tool as quizzes, group exercise presentation, ad-analysis presentation, in-class activity presentations, case analysis presentations, field work presentations, report on integrated marketing communications (both individual & team based evaluations). The innovation in evaluation process of modular evaluation marked the hall-mark of the battery of initiatives in this course.

Marketing Management- II: The Game Changer

Course Design: The main objective of this course was to enable the students design “Marketing Plan” of a company. This was to ensure the highest level of thinking skills imbibed is students as conceptualized in Revised Blooms Taxonomy (RBT). Hence, to have a real feel of the industry, MM-II was designed as a completely field-based course that marked a radical departure from the previous years of old school model of in-class, passive learning to an active learner. The course outline was phased in 6 modules each with a distinct and progressive focus of an element of Marketing Plan, helping students draft the Marketing Plan as the course winds off. The evaluation tools were a mix of quizzes, viva voce, field evidences gathered, field visit reports, and finally Marketing Plan presentation to corporate led team.

Module Designed:

- Module 1: Introduction to Marketing Plan
- Module 2: Situation Analysis
- Module 3: Market Opportunity Identification
- Module 4: Designing the Market Offering (aspects of Product and Price)
- Module 5: Delivering and Communicating customer Value
- Module 6: Feasibility, implementation and control of Marketing Plan

Corporate Tie-ups: The Training & Placement department made a judicious choice of corporate tie-ups with companies from sun-shine industries as telecom, healthcare, retail, consultancy & training, banking & finance, food & beverages, digital marketing, FMCG, real estate, etc. with operations in India and emerging economies.

Stages of Course Delivery: The students were placed in a specific company before the course commencement, in learning teams of 5-6 students per team. This was facilitated by the Training & Placement department and Programme Office. The 28 sessions were spun around learning team-led experiential learning mode. At first the briefing on elements of Marketing Plan was done by faculty using an illustration of a company. It was followed by student learning team-led desk research on the allocated company. A briefing session followed for gauging the understanding of the students on the specified element of marketing plan for which the students had to leave for field research/ field visit. This was to ensure that the students were prepared with the right set of information and queries that would be answered during field visit. The 10 half-a-day field visit days were earmarked for visiting industry and seek information for developing Marketing Plan for the company. The students met the company manager to get the insight of the corporate thinking part and left for field to meet the customer, retailers, dealers and associates. The field data was captured through the templates that were designed by the faculty. The field attendance sheet ensured students presence and participation during off-campus activity. On return back to campus the student team made presentations on their findings during desk research and actual field visits during de-briefing sessions specified for the purpose. A round of questions were fired by the other learning groups as well faculty incharge to initiate critical thinking within teams. Each sub-set of this activity was evaluated and the Project Based Learning (PBL) based learning & evaluation mechanism was intended to allow the faculty to communicate in a progressive and contextual way a range of marketing issues to students and at the same time have multiple assessment opportunities.

Student Experiences:

The students enjoyed their field sessions as the learning set-up was typically different than regular class-room setting. The opportunity to meet the corporate people, retailer, dealers, customers and receive both positive and negative feedback of product portfolio and marketing strategies was a right setting for experiential and real-life learning.

Corporate Experience:

The industry managers were also quite enthusiastic to receive the students on continuous stretch of entire trimester who bubbly came in with lots of field experiences of customers, retailers, dealers, competitors which helped managers gain an insight of their market from a different perspective.

Review & Evaluation Mechanism:

The review of the students learning and progress was done on continuous basis (both individual and group) with a rich bouquet of evaluation tools comprising of quizzes, viva voce, field evidences gathered, field visit reports, regular de-briefing sessions and finally Marketing Plan presentation to corporate led team. The industry representative who had been instrumental in drafting this course made a Mid-review of the progress by personal feedback sessions with students in each section taught. The final presentation of Marketing Plan by the learning teams was done by the evaluation panel co-chaired by the industry representative as well as subject faculty. This was followed by viva voce to gauge the student's understanding of the practical connect of the corporate practices with the fundamental concepts of marketing management course. This broad spectrum of tools ensured the multiple and holistic evaluation of the students.

Final Outcome: By bringing real-life business context to the Marketing Management -II curriculum, the students were encouraged to become independent learners, critical thinkers, team players and lifelong professionals. It was also intended to benefit students to demonstrate his or her marketing & sales acumen while working in real-life marketing environment.

Similarly other 8 courses in marketing area were presented by the industry representatives, marking an innovative initiative that yet was unimagined by peer B-schools. The task team again met in June 2015 where the academia representatives showcased the draft course outline to the task force to ensure that the course retained the spirit of industry centered approach while distilling within the academic guidelines. After the due inputs of the industry, placement department, top management and academia, the course outline was accepted for administering on Batch of 2015-17 of management students. The rubrics of evaluation was prepared for each evaluation tools, control sheets were discussed and descriptive course outline circulated among faculty community for similar academic experience among students across campuses.

The course saw its first run across this campus (close to 300 students) in Trimester I & Trimester II as Marketing Management-I (MM-I) and Marketing Management-II (MMII) course respectively during Academic Year 2015-17.

The initiative was adjudged among the Top 3 initiatives of the year by Indian Management Conclave 2016 at IIM Ahmedabad.

In order to ensure effective delivery of the programme, the Institute follows a rigorous policy of programme design and course structuring, its audit and review. To facilitate standardization of course curriculum and delivery and to ensure uniformity in learning across all programmes, we follow standard uniform academic practices to ensure that the content, delivery methods and material are relevant, upto date and of high quality:

- a) Programme Design: The programme design process is rigorously conducted to ensure that the students are offered a high quality of learning in each course and are trained as per the requirements of the industry. The course outlines are designed by the task force based on the needs of the corporate world and after incorporating the feedbacks of the stakeholders. It is presented in the academic review meetings conducted after each term and the annually wherein the audience comprises of the faculty members from all functional areas, guests from industry and eminent academicians. Brainstorming is done on each and every aspect of the course outline (Course learning outcomes, evaluation criteria, text and references, web/other resources and session plan) to ensure learning outcomes are clearly defined and mapped as per the course objectives. The finalized course outline is used by all faculty members teaching the particular course.
- b) Course Pedagogy: At Jaipuria Lucknow, Teaching learning process is a planned interaction that promotes behavioural change that is not a result of maturation or coincidence. While the instructor serves as the main control, the learner is considered the key participant in the teaching learning process. Putting the onus of learning onto the student, facilitated by the instructor forces the student to think actively and to develop a new perspective on reality. In order to facilitate learning various components are included to augment classroom teaching like extensive use of Case Studies, Role Play, Simulation, Quizzes, Presentations, individual and group projects, sessions by subject matter experts, preparation of Business Plans, etc.
- c) Course Evaluation Audit: An external committee formed by the Director to evaluate a) adherence to course outline/syllabus, b) quality of the question paper and coverage of the syllabus in the question paper, and c) evaluation of sample answer sheets and personal interaction with members of expert panel.
- d) Expert Sessions: In order to bring Industry experience in classroom, each course has a provision of two to three sessions by Industry experts relevant to the course, an effort is made to invite the experts from different managerial levels. In addition the Industry experts are invited in Conclaves, Conferences, Workshops, Training Programmes, Panel Discussions, Orientation and Reorientation programmes organized periodically by the institute. Feedback is sought from experts to identify contemporary topics in their areas of expertise and to incorporate the same into classroom teaching.

- e) IDP: Panel of Industry expert and faculty interview students before and after SIP to identify their potential, strengths and weakness. Each student is required to fill Individual Assessment Form which is reviewed by the panel. Based on the recommendations of the panel, specific development needs of students are identified and their individual development plan is formulated. Second IDP also evaluates the summer internship project of the student and it accounts for 25 marks in SIP evaluation.
- f) Feedback Mechanism: After completion of each course an online structured feedback form is required to be filled by the students wherein they give a feedback of the course, its stated learning outcomes, course material, pedagogy and instructor effectiveness, the same is shared with faculty. The feedback form allows for confidentiality and anonymity of students thereby assuring that students give a fair opinion. In addition informal feedback is taken by the Director, Dean and Programme Director through class representatives and by meeting all students in an open house. In case of any issues the feedback and suggested improvements are conveyed to the faculty to ensure course delivery helps in achievement of course learning outcomes. The feedback is also sought from the passed out students, members from Industry and subject matter experts by the faculty to identify gap areas and to make the course content and pedagogy relevant and current.

Editorial scope

The journal draws on insights and contributions worldwide. High quality submissions are sought from academics, researchers and practitioners from around the world. Based on their recommendations the Editor then decides whether the paper should be accepted as it is, revised (minor or major revision) or rejected. Following major revisions, papers are returned to the original reviewers for their decision.

3.4.5 What is the stated policy of the College to check malpractices and misconduct in research?

Jaipuria Institute of Management strongly condemns the growing menace of plagiarism. While it would very much wish and do everything possible to encourage its faculty to practice the value of academic integrity and set highest standards of academic integrity, yet it will not hesitate to impose sanctions against the wrong-doers to curb plagiarism in its institutions. The Research and Publication committee will be required to carry out the following to promote Academic Publications:

- Create greater awareness of the ethics and values of the academics as well as implications and consequences of plagiarism.
- Organize FDPs on 'How to write / publish in reputed Journals' and also counsel faculty in the art of making right citations, referencing, paraphrasing, etc. In addition, periodically reinforce the principles of academic integrity in faculty council meetings.
- Identify and install anti-plagiarism software (many of which are available as 'openware').
- Encourage faculty to put all conference papers and books to be sent for publication to the rigor of anti-plagiarism testing and attach a declaration to that effect along with the paper before submitting to the Chairperson, Research & Publications Committee.
- Likewise, to ensure that all papers received for inclusion in the conferences and seminars organized in the Institute and also the papers received for consideration of publication in the Institute's Journal are put through the same rigor.
- On receipt of any complaint relating to suspicion of plagiarism, initiate an investigation and keep the Director informed on the developments. On the advice of the Director, the concerned faculty must be given the opportunity to present their case to the committee. On completion of the investigation, the committee will submit to Director all the documents relating to the said paper along with its recommendations.
In cases where the act of plagiarism relates to lifting of a substantially large part of paper from other source(s); or a combination of the abuses of misconduct as listed above found to be severe in the judgment of the Committee, disciplinary proceedings may be initiated against the faculty for imposing appropriate penalty including leading to termination of services by the Director.

CRITERION V: STUDENT SUPPORT AND PROGRESSION

5.1 Student Mentoring and Support

5.1.1 Does the College have an independent system for student support and mentoring? If yes, what are its structural and functional characteristics?

The institute has an independent and well defined system for student support and mentoring. The students are encouraged to work in teams to build interpersonal and leadership qualities. The institute offers the mentorship support to encourage the students to develop their personal growth agenda. Faculty mentors are allotted to each student for entire two years as soon as he/she joins the institute. The faculty mentor helps the student understand their strength area as well as highlight their areas of improvement. The outcome of this leads to building a personal development agenda during one-on-one interaction.

At the time of joining, students are divided into heterogenous mix of 5 - 6 students and the group thus formed is known as Learning Team. The group is permanent across different courses and activities in the first year of the programme.

The purpose of creating such groups is that the group members would actively and intensively learn from one another through working together on a variety of tasks and develop teamwork and social skills. The Learning Team groups are required in each course to do group assignments, presentations, field work, etc. together which further helps each student to learn from other group members.

In addition, from 2016 onwards specific set of guidelines have been instituted and Mentoring activities have been divided into three phases to make the mentoring process more structured and result oriented. The first phase spans across trimester 1 and 2 and it is focuses on issues related to settling down & adjustment; adaptation to learning style and readings; problems of slow and fast learners; anxiety related to academic performance. In second phase which spans across trimester 3 and 4 and the focus is on issues related to summer internship; elective selections; and academic performance. The most crucial third phase covers last two trimesters of the programme and concentrates on issues related to Placement; Companies; Preparations; Competitive Anxieties; Balancing academics with placement pressures. In all, the activities to be taken up under mentoring sessions are well defined in advance and are communicated to mentors and mentees in advance.

5.1.2 What provisions exist for academic mentoring apart from class room work?

Every week a Mentoring session is scheduled with mentors wherein students have a one-on-one and group level discussions. Mentoring sessions are incorporated in the timetable and one slot is given every week for this activity. FACE OFF REPORT/SUMMARY

The day dawned for the festival of flowing emotions, the decider of who holds the upper thumb; the battle wizened seniors or the youthful, energetic juniors in their shiny armors. The arena was all set for Faceoff'16 as Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow on 31st January, 2016 witnessed the Epic Battle in the form of the Annual sports event which pitted the juniors against the seniors in eleven sporting events to decide the victor and concretize the claim of words into the history of champions. The teams were encouraged with the continuous presence of Dr Himanshu Misra.

The first half of the day saw the 'to be corporate managers' test their mettle on the ground with Cricket, Basketball accompanied by the indoor games of Carom, Chess and Table Tennis. Not only the grounds but the digital world was also put on fire with the spray of bullets from M4's and AK's and detonations from C4's when the boys geared themselves for Counter Strike.

The gentlemen's game, Cricket saw the seniors out run the juniors team by 36 runs. In Basketball junior's team received the glory of being victorious. On the front of indoor games senior's team won the game of Table Tennis while the juniors enjoyed the spoils of victory in Carom. The chequered battlefield saw seniors emerge as victorious. In Counter Strike it was again the Senior team which emerged victorious.

With the sun starting to descend it was time for neat passes, gritty tackles and exquisite finesse to put the ball home and emerge winners of the exciting game of football. And that's what was witnessed by the audience as juniors ran rout on their opponent. Accompanying it in the second half of the day was Volleyball where again it was the juniors who emerged victorious. In Need for Speed the chrome and shiny cars revved the engines to give the seniors team some much needed nitrous boost.

In the end it was all up-to the decisive contest of tussle- a severe contest for supremacy, "Tug of War" awaited the participants to attain glory through the old way, pure muscle power. The female Tug of war resulted in the senior girls' team winning the event while their junior male counterparts emerged victors against the senior boys' team.

With all the events coming to their conclusion it was time to reward the winners for their splendid performances throughout the day and it was no surprise as Seniors won the Champions Trophy for winning Six events out of the total eleven teaching their juniors it's not only youth and energy that matters it also comes down to tactics, perseverance and good old experience that always count.

The Senior team was presented the Champions Trophy by Prof. Himanshu Misra. Invigorated by the performance and enthusiasm of the students Prof. Misra praised them and gave them some important tips to be successful not only on the field of play but also on that of life. For the Academic Year 2016-17 the event is scheduled on 27th December, 2016. The institute provides academic leave to students for participation in such extra-curricular activities and co-curricular activities

2016-17	13	50	95%, 275 (289)	24 (till 07 Dec)

The table clearly indicates that the number of students contesting elections has doubled in last 3 years from 25 to 50 and the voting percentage has reached to 95% from mere 40%. The number of meetings of the council has also gone up and all the minutes of the meetings are well documented and signed by Student President, Vice President and Associate Dean as well.

CRITERION 6 : INSTITUTIONAL VISION AND LEADERSHIP

6.1.1 State the vision and mission of the College.

Vision: To promote human well being through effective management education.

Mission: To continuously upgrade and upscale the quality and spread of our educational endeavor.

6.1.2 Does the mission statement define the College's distinctive characteristics in terms of addressing the needs of the society, the students it seeks to serve, College's traditions and value orientations, vision for the future, etc.?

Keeping our key stakeholders that includes the board, faculty and staff, students, parents, researchers, regulators, business and industry and the society at large, our strategic objectives form the milestones which we pursue relentlessly. Our long term goals are stated as under:

Goal 1: To develop relevant and innovative curricula with a view to produce competent managers with global, professional and entrepreneurial mindsets.

Goal 2: To conduct management development programmes to help managers hone their skills and broaden their perspectives.

Goal 3: To produce cutting edge intellectual capital in the field of management through applied and conceptual research in the field of management.

Goal 4: To network with national and international business schools and institutions in order to provide global exposure to the faculty and students.

Goal 5: To attract and retain quality faculty.

Goal 6: To empower and enable students to be an active component of decision making.

An examination of the above stated goals clearly forms a link between the stated mission and the strategic objectives that we pursue to achieve.

Our strategic plan for the next four years (i.e., 2016-2020) reflects the clarity of our strategic objectives. To meet our primary goal of developing relevant and innovative curricula with a view to produce competent managers with global, professional and entrepreneurial mindsets, we are guided by our 'Board of Governors', Academic Council, Faculty Council, and Functional Area Committees. These bodies outline broad framework that guides in formulation of innovative curricula, our academic policies and procedures in light of future requirements of employability skills. There are various committees constituted for taking up a collective leadership philosophy forward wherein faculty and staff members are nominated to shoulder the assigned responsibilities of designing and overseeing academic and academic administration activities. To meet our cherished goal of honing managerial skills and broaden their perspectives, we continuously interface with the corporate world through various which include Management Development Programmes. (Pan India where executives from public and private enterprises participate.)

To further our stated goal to produce cutting edge intellectual capital in the field of management through applied and conceptual research in the field of management, we have Research Committee under the leadership of Dean (Research) and Centre of Learning Innovation and Case Development (CLIC) under a Chair Professor. These centres of excellence focus on generally high quality research output. The institute has a suitable policy framework to encourage the faculty members, staff and students for carrying out research. The resources available are our infrastructure including state of art library, a dedicated team of faculty colleagues and a dedicated research/ administrative staff.

There is an independent cell for strengthening the network with national and international business schools and institutions in order to provide global exposure to the faculty and students. Presently the college has international collaborations with eight universities and is actively seeking more tieups in near future.

The institute promotes excellence in faculty through motivational schemes like opportunities to participate in FDPs, seminars, conferences, workshops, conclaves both nationally and international. The faculty is offered career advancement schemes and is promoted as they meet the laid criteria which are announced in advance.

The institute has placed special emphasis on student empowerment and students engage themselves in conducting a host of activities through 'Student Excellence Council'. Our clearly stated objectives aim to help students unlock their true potentials and transform them from 'what they are' to 'what they could be'. There are multiple clubs and committees which are student driven under the guidance of a faculty coordinator.

We understand the importance of our contribution in nation building primarily through business and industry. Our interface with the job market is through Centre for Career Management (CMC). The employment markets that we serve are business, academia, NGOs etc. The institute is aiming to emerge as a Centre of Excellence in all facets of management education which is rooted in its stated ethos and value system.

We have a global footprint in terms of our alumni.

We are committed to nurture student centric, collegial, innovative and entrepreneurial culture. This is operationalised through sustaining a very responsive academic and administrative system which promotes human values and professional ethics among students. Our operational values guide our processes and activities to align them with the institutional culture. Various process owners of the academic and administrative systems are committed to uphold the basic tenet of transforming students into an ethical professional with global mindset and entrepreneurial spirit. We strive to inculcate a culture of collective leadership and stand for the collective endeavor to enhance quality at all possible activities conducted. Hence a systematic feedback is taken from all the stakeholders possible and system is strengthened based on feedback.

6.1.7 Give details of the academic and administrative leadership provided by the University to the College?

It does not apply to us as Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow is an autonomous institute.

6.1.8 How does the College groom the leadership at various levels?

The institute grooms the leadership at various levels by making different stakeholders accountable of their decisions to the institute.

Accountability comes with the delegated responsibility with very specific and focused sets of responsibilities for all stake holders. Since the institution firmly believes in the collective decision making, the various committees that look after the implementation of the decisions also own the outcomes. Institute ensures transparency in decision taken by governing body. Members from Board of Governors interact with the faculty during all possible occasions. The major decisions taken by the Board, feedback and suggestions on various issues are appropriately conveyed to the faculty and staff at the institute for needful wherever required. Minutes of meetings including decisions taken are maintained and circulated among all concerned. Institute ensures involvement of all stakeholders for ensuring accountability in governing decisions. Faculty Council meets frequently where minutes are recorded and circulated. Area colleague meetings are also recorded and circulated among Area colleagues. The Pan Area meets atleast once a year to deliberate and decide various academic issues like course curriculum revision/ revamping, introduction of new courses, introduction or alteration of any academic procedures of evaluation / grading, pedagogy, introduction of new models in courses, etc. During the AC meeting decisions are taken, minutes prepared and circulated among concerned members for execution at appropriate level. Alumni and students interact with faculty and their feedback is discussed in Area Meetings and taken forward where required. In the beginning of each academic year, academic administrative functions and various functional committees are formed and officially announced for participation of all faculty in governance of the institute. Each Programme is lead by a Programme Director and Manager Programme Office for academic administration. Area Chairs are appointed who take decisions in Area Committees. All decisions are taken collectively and in transparent manner. Minutes are recorded and circulated.

6.1.9 Has the College evolved any strategy for knowledge management? If yes, give details.

Yes, the institute has strategy for knowledge management. Continuous updation of the curricula and offering of a contemporary course coverage is our commitment. As a part of it, at regular periodicity we assess the implications of the changing managerial challenges on curricula and undertake need based revisions. A comprehensive review of the curricula is done every year, though alternations in course coverage to incorporate current developments in various functional areas of management through cases / examples/exercises/ guest lectures/ seminars / conferences are carried out in a routine manner from trimester to trimester. In terms of the process, we draw upon the suggestions and feedback of the external subject experts from amongst the accomplished academia and reputed managers. Feedback and suggestions for revisions in course coverage / focus is also received from the distinguished members of board of governors and academic council as well as internal faculty who are regularly encouraged and sponsored to participate in various national / international conferences . Interactions with the recruiters and alumni further add to our perspective. Assessment of the need of the industry is carried out by meeting industry experts and functional specialists. Information is sought from internal faculty who advance their information based on their own observations and published research in the area. Our students undergo extensive two months industry internship and are asked to submit their report at the end of the two months training period. Enquiry from them gives a good measure of what needs to be taught. Alumni feedback is available to us through alumni meets by way of business sessions with them. Academic experts occupy seats in our formal academic bodies and also through academic seminar and symposium

6.1.10 How are the following values reflected in various functions of the College?

- * Contributing to national development
- * Fostering global competencies among students
- * Inculcating a value system among students
- * Promoting use of technology
- * Quest for excellence

The institute empowers its faculty, staff and students through well placed systems, and clearly defined organizational structure. A system of collective decision making is in place at forums such as faculty council and student excellence council. All academic decisions are taken after due deliberations and ratification at the faculty council level. Student community is represented by the student council which plays an active role in day to day governance of the institute.

A culture of innovation and constant up gradation of all institutional processes and system is inculcated. As a result the institutions stay in sync with the dynamic business environment. Some innovative practices adopted in the recent past include addition of new types of assessment components to assure learning (use of reflective notes as an example), use of technology in classes and evaluation (multimedia equipped classes and excel/computer lab based examination system); periodic review of course outlines and up gradation/necessary pruning of course content and inclusion of practitioner input as guest sessions in course curriculum. The institute provides opportunity to faculty members to upgrade themselves through a week long internal faculty development program annually and small duration faculty training programs intermittently during the course of a trimester. Student's all round development and inculcation of leadership skills and personal integrity is a priority. Recent innovations in this regard are the Individual Development Program (IDP) and a well structured mentorship program. Also alumni and practitioner input is now built in as a necessary input for curriculum review and upgradation. Diversity is nurtured by the institute through drawing upon its culturally and linguistically diverse human resource pool. Students and faculty thrive in an ambience of harmony and cultural tolerance where all major festivals are celebrated with fervor.

6.4.4 Have the accounts been audited regularly? What are the major audit objections and how are they complied with?

Yes, the files and folders pertaining to Accounts section is audited internally once in a year by a team of Chartered Accountants. Statutory Audit is also done once in a year usually in the month of May/ June of every year. The objections are rare and are closed in the defined timeline suggested.

6.4.5 Narrate the efforts taken by the College for resource mobilization.

- The Institute generates revenue through the annual fee of the students.
- It also sources its revenues by conducting MDPs both In-house and Open.

6.4.6 Is there any provision for the College to maintain the 'corpus fund'? If yes, give details.

Yes, we maintain corpus fund.

6.5 Internal Quality Assurance System

6.5.1 Does the College conduct an academic audit of its departments? If yes, give details.

The quality assurance policy of Jaipuria Institute of Management, Lucknow, is derived from the vision of the Institute i.e. to promote human well being through effective management education. The academic quality assurance mechanisms rest on the foundation of ensuring effectiveness of the curriculum for all important stakeholders and for our students in particular. With the formation of AAC committee the institute has put in place an institute-wide academic quality management framework to gather evidence-based information on the quality of its programmes and graduates and to encourage a culture of continuous self-improvement through self-reflection of processes.

The institute has long been committed to the Quality of its academic output. Various informal and formal mechanisms have existed such as a well-structured course feedback system, review and ratification of course outlines at twin levels of specific areas and faculty council. This is coupled with collective review of pedagogy and debate on the rigor and relevance of the overall curriculum. However in the backdrop of the emerging quest of Institute and Program level accreditation and drawing upon the feedback received from the two visits of experts teams of NAAC (Year 2012), and AIU (year 2013); the institute committed itself to outcome based education. This commitment is reflected in adoption of a formal academic audit mechanism under the aegis of the IQAC committee, for all the courses, introduction of midterm feedback system in addition to the term end feedback.

Two other mechanisms support this, the system of open classes (attended and reviewed by Dean - Academics and Director), and the Academic Program Committee which reviews the functioning/output of and advises the program committees, examination committee and the IQAC on policy and implementation. In addition Director/Dean (Academics)/Program Chair level review of courses takes place intermittently in small and large group meetings with students and faculty members.

AAC Procedure of Academic Audit

Faculty members are provided a checklist of documents which must be submitted at the completion of the course to the program office. The documents to be submitted include course profile; self-audit form duly filled by faculty members, all readings/support material used/quizzes/cases etc. The files are reviewed by the program office staff at the first level and matched against the check list. The IQAC Committee meetings are then convened to initiate the academic audit process as follows:

1. Matching of course audit form against the course outline to ensure that the necessary coverage of course and the assessment elements has taken place.
2. A review of question papers and sample assignments is undertaken. All claims in the self-audit form are cross checked and mapped against the course learning outcomes.
3. The committee makes recommendations based on the audit process which are later shared at the academic program committee and faculty council level.
4. The observations are shared with faculty members and a need based one to one meeting is scheduled with individual faculty members.

The Open Class Mechanism:

Faculty members are encouraged to attend the classes of other colleagues to facilitate peer level feedback, in addition to the Dean (Academics) and Director who also attend classes of faculty members announced/unannounced as required. The purpose of this activity will be to observe the following aspect of class under progress:

1. Compliance of session plans/pedagogy etc. as mentioned in course outlines.
2. Review of the pedagogy
3. Use of class engagement mechanisms
4. The quality of content
5. The energy of the class
6. Scope for improvement in the process

The feedback of the open class is shared with the faculty members and suggestions on possible improvement in the teaching and learning process is made.

The Course Feedback Mechanism

The course feedback is centrally administered by the office of Dean (Academics). The students are required to participate in the feedback process twice (mid-term and end term). The feedback is filled online. The feedback collected is analyzed by the office of Dean (Academics) to review average, below and above average performers.

Cases of significantly below average performance are required to appear for a one to one meeting with Program Chairs, Dean (Academics) as well as Director to identify the scope for course correction and necessary counseling and mentoring. The course feedback is a part of faculty annual appraisal process. Faculty members are strongly advised to continually monitor their teaching and learning process in a course in close coordination with the students/class representatives.

Class Representative and SEC:

The student community represented by their class representatives and Members of Students Excellence Council regularly interface with the individual faculty members handling a particular course regarding any course delivery related matter. They are also required to regularly update the respective course teachers, program chairs/Dean (Academics)/Director on the teaching and learning in various courses.

6.5.2 Based on the recommendations of academic audit what specific measures have been taken by the College to improve teaching, learning and evaluation?

In order to maintain and improve upon academic quality, the session plans from the faculty members are taken before the commencement of trimester. The course progress is shared in the academic programme committee/ faculty council meetings. Besides, at the programme level, formal and informal feedbacks (Open Houses) from the students are taken. The adverse feedbacks are acted upon after consultation with the director/dean.

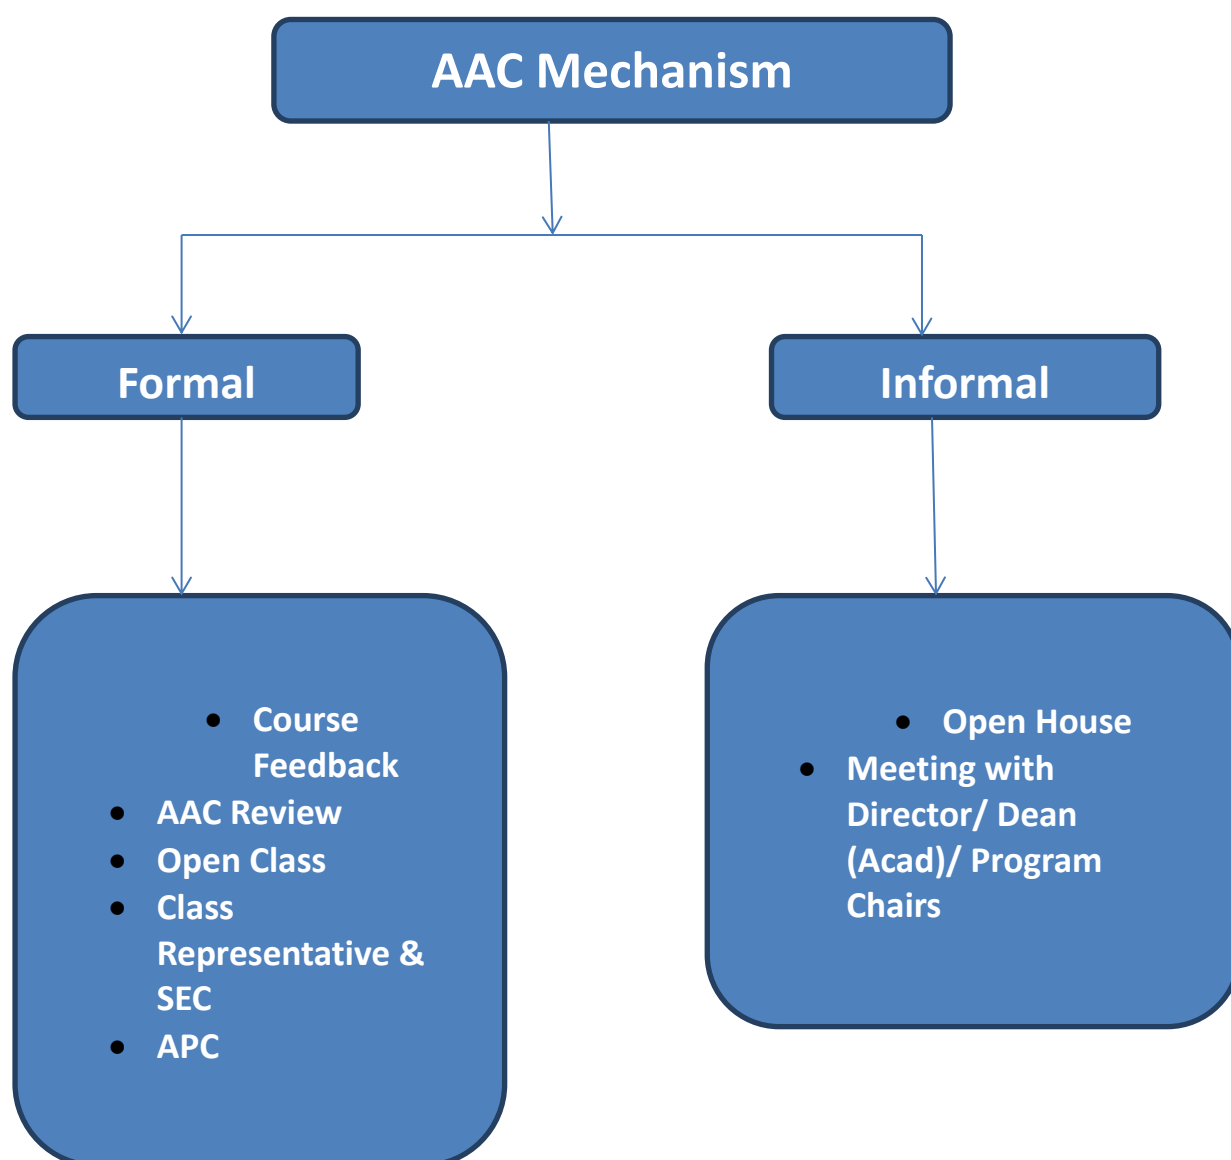

Second quality initiative is to collect corporate/ recruiters' feedback about the performance of students with respect to their domain knowledge, awareness, soft skills etc. during IDPs. The programme takes into account the findings of corporate and takes corrective action in terms of holding additional classes, tutorials etc, wherever required. By doing so the corporate/ recruiter's feedback loop is completed.

Third initiative of quality assurance is ecosystem at Jaipuria, Lucknow. Our campus environment is highly conducive for academic learning and provides a comfortable living to its students, faculty and researchers, with facilities par excellence. One of the best learning sites for our fraternity is its library with its good seating capacity. The library is well stocked with books, journals, CDs, DVDs etc. Its online resources, databases and books are accessed by the fraternity through well designed circulation privileges. Each faculty and key staff member is provided with a Wi-fi based computer/laptop. In addition, the fully secured and networked computer laboratory has also desk-top computers for use by students, faculty, researchers and staff members. As per the international best practices, students, faculty members have access to on line resources such as EBSCO, ProWess, DELNET.

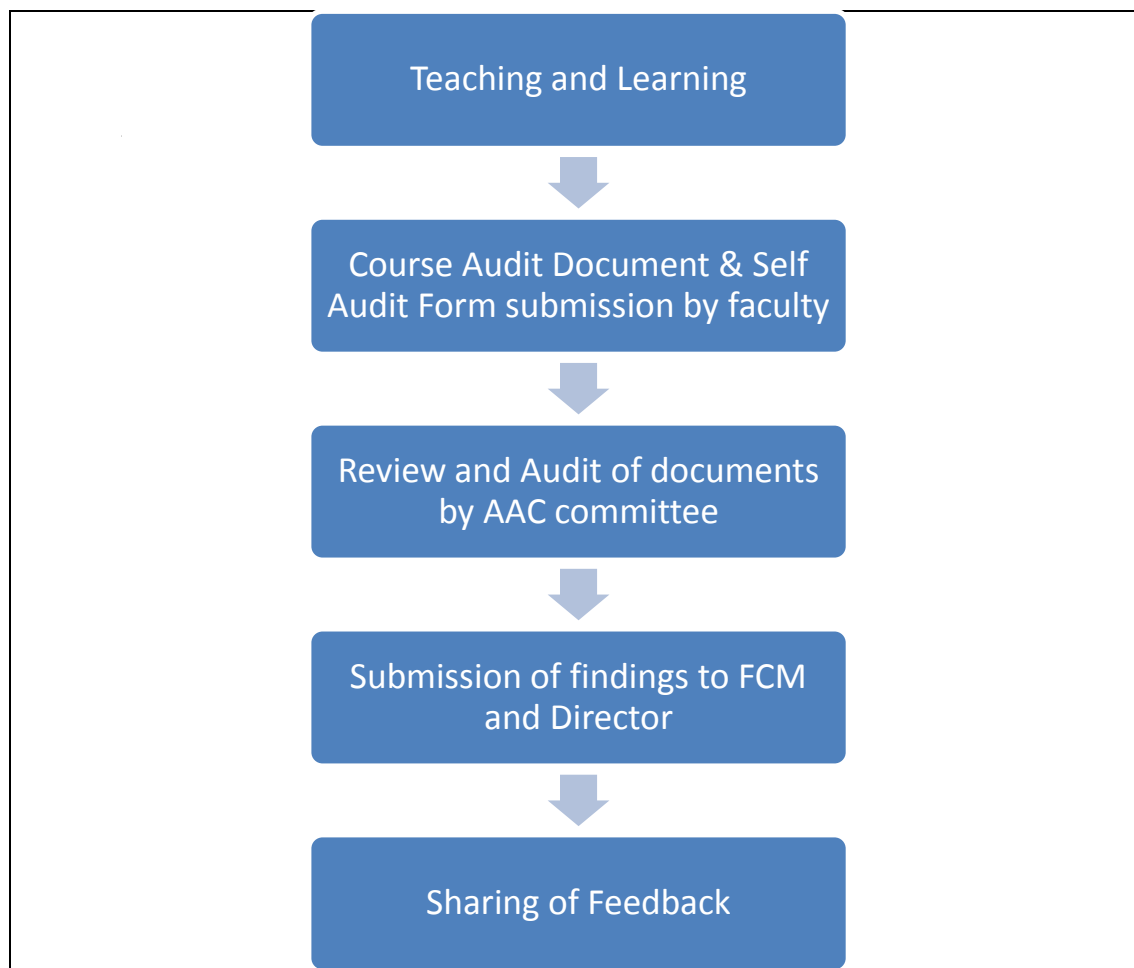

The fourth initiative of Jaipuria, Lucknow's quality assurance and measurement is to participate in media ranking. It has been consistently ranked among top B-schools in Northern India.

syllabus. While covering the syllabus, the faculty is required to involve an expert from the industry to cover about 10% of the syllabus.

- Periodic feedback is taken from the students about the teaching of the particular course and the feedback is shared with the concerned faculty member and other necessary corrective actions are taken.
- Any proposed change concerning the design and delivery of the course is discussed in the Area Meeting where a peer review takes place.

MEDIA RELATIONS COMMITTEE

Believing in the adage that a picture is worth a thousand words, Media Relations Committee has brought a lot of innovation in the way events of the institute are being covered and showcased.

Some of the practices being followed include:

- Using pictures as a part of the text rather than attaching them separately. This not only makes the write-up more interesting but also enables the reader to relate the picture with what's been written. Content is comprehensive but at the same time crisp. The photographs are being designed to increase their attractiveness. To enable us to showcase more photographs, 3-4 related pics are put together in the form of a collage.

- Involvement of the students has been enhanced by revolving the posts on Facebook and Instagram to themes which involve the students and are of value to them. Short videos encompassing students/faculty/events organised in/out of the institute are being made by the committee members and being posted regularly.
- Day to day achievements and efforts of the students are being highlighted which helps to form a connect with them.

CENTRES OF EXCELLENCE

Instituting three centres as new 'Centres of Excellence': Centre for Learning, Innovation, and Case Development (CLIC), Centre for Entrepreneurship Development (CED) and Centre for Banking & Financial Services (CBFS). The College has been in fore-front for creating new centres of excellence in various domains for forwarding specialized activities in international linkages, research, corporate reach-outs, MDP, entrepreneurship development, etc.

EMPLOYEE DEVELOPMENT

Peer Feedback survey: The Institute also takes a peer feedback annually of the faculty and staff through an independent online survey. This is then shared by the campus Director with the faculty and staff to improve upon the areas of concern.

7.3 Best Practices

7.3.1 Give details of any two best practices which have contributed to better academic and administrative functioning of the College.

1. Title: Individual Development Programme (IDP)

Objectives: Its primary purpose is to help students assess their current strengths and weaknesses and identify opportunities to reach short and long-term career goals, as well as improve current academic performance and job related preparations. The objective stresses upon helping students examine their skills, interests, and career aspirations.

Context: The major focus of this initiative was to improve the placement quotient of the students as well as develop their long term career potential. Individual development programme benefits the students by aligning their training and development efforts with the desired graduate attributes required at the corporate work place.

It is a developmental tool where faculty mentors develop a better understanding of their mentees' professional goals, strengths, and development needs resulting in more realistic student career progression and development plans. Faculty mentors and corporate mentors take personal responsibility and accountability in this development process helping students acquiring or enhancing their skill, knowledge, attitude that are expected to stay current in contemporary corporate practices. Some of the benefits of an IDP are:

- Provide a mechanism for identifying and tracking development needs and plans of the students.
- Assist in planning for the institutional (Training & Placement) activities towards training and development requirements of the students for being corporate ready.
- Align students' training and development efforts with their corporate aspirations in identified sector and profile.

The Practice: When the students join the institute, their potentials need to be ascertained and channelized in right direction with the help of a well thought and systematic mentoring plan. There may be a lack of talent recognition and underutilization of students' potential if not mapped.

To map it in a scientific manner IDP plan was designed to identify the dreams of each student of Jaipuria Institute of Management and assess their potential to achieve their dream. The complete IDP Plan is based on the 'RYV' model i.e; Ruchi, Yogyata and Vishwas. These three elements were the root of the initiative. It's an elaborate assessment process which covers all the students at the campus across all programmes.

All faculty mentors and our rich pool of industry mentors (including alumni) guide the students on their journey of self-discovery. Depending on student needs, faculty members get together and conduct as many such processes as are required. This is also supported by cohort meetings, networking events, etc.

Like any ambitious program of its scale, IDP presents us with new and unexpected challenges at every step. However, both students and faculty of Jaipuria Institute of Management work together as one to overcome the challenges and make this endeavor a success. It is the team that is driving this now. As per us the biggest change it made is to the lives of students.

Evidence of Success: It has shown the biggest change by placing students with big brands that leads to strengthening of bond and relationship between student and faculty during the program and even after the completion. Now, Students are more 'self aware' and 'focused' on career as well as their lives.

1. Title: Annual Faculty Development Programmes

Objectives: The Annual FDP aims at enhancing the academic and intellectual environment at the campus by providing faculty members with enough opportunities to understand the changing requirements of the graduate attributes that the students need to be equipped with during their two-year PGDM programme at the campus.

Participation in such programmes is aimed at enabling faculty members meet eminent academicians, corporate captains, alumni and passed-out students at this platform to update their academic, research and pedagogical skills during course design process. This ultimately is aimed to facilitate students equip with necessary attributes as per the requirements of the industry that they aspire for career progression.

The programme enables the participants to develop competence in understanding recent advances in management education, research and extension, to learn to improve pedagogies and to better presentation skill to become an effective management faculty.

Context: The need was to bring about the major changes in the curriculum design and delivery process. It was also desired to infuse the spirit of holistic understanding on a broader context and international perspective into the programmes offered. A larger pool of stakeholders' feedback needed to be brought into course review process so as to align the graduate attributes required for the contemporary corporate practices into delivery system.

The Practice: The course curriculum development is a continual process which is aimed at aligning the course content and pedagogies to benchmark with the best of the B-schools of the country as well as makes the students industry-ready. Feedback of the current course content & pedagogies is taken from the principal stakeholders like corporate, alumni, eminent academicians and past students to identify the perceptual gap. Each Area then constitutes a team of faculty guided by anchor faculty with specialization of the subject who map it with the feedback received as well as latest development in the management education domain. After due deliberations, it is presented to the area colleagues in the presence of a panel of experts from corporate & Academe. After further discussions inputs are received, the course outline is crafted keeping in mind the course learning outcomes and integrating it with session learning outcomes. It is then shared among the faculty and then operationalized in the respective trimester.

Evidence of Success: Since the commencement of the FDP in its current format, it has witnessed continuous improvement of curriculum architecture and course review process to address emerging developmental needs of management educators. This initiative has contributed significantly to the improvement of the quality of management education at the campus. This has reflected in the increasing competence level of the students, faculty and improvement in the B-school ranking on year-to-year basis.

2. Title: BUSINESS ORIENTATION PROJECT (BOP)

Objectives of the Practice: The BOP is designed to provide students an opportunity to test their business visualization and analysis skills.
