Global Initiative by Jaipuria Institute of Management: Prof. Ashish Chandra from University of Houston, Clearlake, USA invited to teach at Jaipuria campuses

International Relations Committee of the institute is engaged in assisting the students to extend their networks globally. In the past, the committee has continuously organized various visits and events very successfully.

Jaipuria Institute of Management, Noida witnessed the visit of Dr. Ashish Chandra, Professor at University of Houston, Clearlake from 6th Nov'17 till 9th Nov'17. He has been visiting all the four campuses of Jaipuria along with it he was also working on his project. He visited Indore, Lucknow and Jaipur campuses between 23rd Oct – 1st Nov and have deliberated on topics like 'Demand Forecasting and market size identification', 'Developing Product strategy, Brand Value Chain, Formulating Distribution Strategy', 'Changing trends in family buying behavior, Interaction of Culture and consumer behaviour' etc. He wanted to interact with the Indian students and thus he took guest lectures at Jaipuria Institute of Management. He talked about topics related to consumer behavior and research methodology.

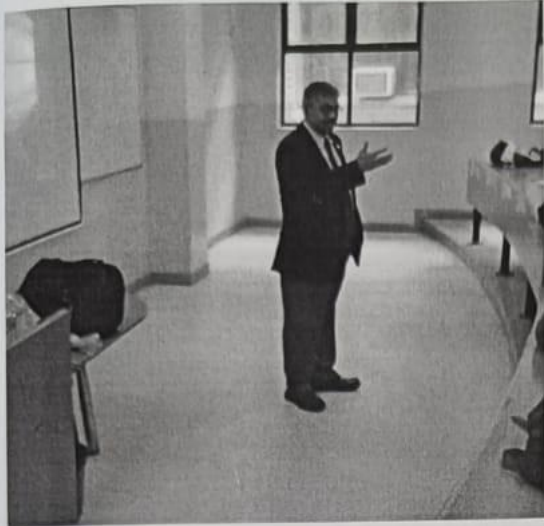

On his arrival to Noida Campus, he was warmly welcomed by Dr. Kavita Pathak, Director, Noida along with Dr. Poonam Sharma, Chairperson, International Relations. A brief talk followed thereafter before he could resume his sessions with the students.

In his class sessions, Dr. Chandra, being a healthcare specialist elaborated about the services offered in this sector. In addition to this he threw light on some marketing techniques like identification of market identify of a service, which market segment you have to focus more.

He deliberated about the cultural diversity and exemplified the same through Coca Cola advertisements in which they use different techniques of advertisements like in Diwali the advertisements are focused on lightning, on Christmas the advertisement is focused on Santa clause and Christmas tree and many more.

Turkey revolution was also a part of his talk where he explained how Turkey was a secular country but now Turkey has become radicalized. He believes that religion should not be a governing factor in an organization. He enacted a short play, for students to learn and understand the different culture.

Further he also gave some interview tips like how to push the interviewer to what you know, distract the interviewer, leadership, who is coming to interview, learned about interviewer everything (family structure, religion, articles) about company, structure of interview.

During his lecture he was trying to interact with each and every student in different ways. He also explained to the young minds that helmets are lifestyle choices and not just decorative pieces, but still some of us don't place our helmets on head or most of times we don't use it.

His sessions at Jaipuria were a combination of knowledge and humour. Students really had a great time attending his session. This was a great opportunity for the students, interacting with such experienced international faculty.

He took a session on 'Marketing Plan' as well where he asked the students about the company assigned by the college for marketing management field visit. Further, he shared his knowledge by telling each group about how they can recognize product decision and pricing strategy for the products and services offered by the company.

Be earth smart. Please consider the environment before printing this e-mail.

We would be happy to announce this programme to our students.

But after going through the schedule, we have figured that the program being offered by Skyline is quite expensive for our students. As mentioned, the program cost is 5500 AED for 5 nights which is exclusive of airfare and visa charges.

Last time, when our students participated in the Student Immersion Program organised by IMT Dubai, the program cost was Rs. 70,000 (approx.) for 8 nights and 9 days inclusive of accommodation, food (breakfast, lunch and dinner), local sightseeing (Dubai and Abu Dhabi), training, program certification, airfare and visa charges.

Would there be a possibility of reducing the programme cost. I think there would be enough takers if we can reduce the cost and make it within our students budget.

We will highly appreciate if you can consider and see if there is any way we can reduce the programme cost.

We look forward to your reply.

Thanks & Regards

Himanshi

Prof. Poonam Sharma's visit to Wellington campuses of WelTec and Whitireia

Dr. Poonam Sharma flew to Wellington to visit all the three Wellington campuses of WelTec and Whitireia from 12th – 16th November, 2018. She was given campus tour to the Porirua, Petone and the Wellington city campuses. It was yet another remarkable week for her.

WelTech It is a tertiary institution training around 8000 students offering a wide range of industry-led qualifications through to degree and postgraduate programmes. It is one of New Zealand's oldest education institutions and the second-oldest in the capital city. Their home campus is in Petone, one of the most beautiful campuses of WelTech.

Government owned and funded, Whitireia is known for its high student success rates and culturally diverse student body. Established in 1986, on the shores of the Porirua harbor, Whitireia has grown to become the institution of choice for over 6,200 students, who study at one of their contemporary campuses in Porirua, Wellington, Kāpiti and Auckland.

What Prof. Poonam was most impressed was the way the Industry tightly integrates in the Programs that Whitireia runs for its students. The campuses are beautiful state-of-the art complexes where you see students studying, relaxing and engaging freely. Be it the Automobile section where you will see students working on real cars sponsored by the Industry. This hands-on experience makes them readily employable, thereby increasing the Success of the Institute along with them. The Media section is again futuristic where students can be seen working on latest tools for special effects and creative aspects of filmmaking and media management. The student absorption by the Industry again is very encouraging. Similarly, there are multiple offerings where Whitireia is preparing industry and future ready leaders.

Campus Glimpse

Ms. Moira Hagenson, General Manager, International, WelTech and Whitireia had invited Prof. Poonam for a dinner meeting. The meeting proceeded with a discussion about summer programs, faculty exchanges and collaborations in detail. Ms. Moira expressed her hope that the association with Jaipuria Institute of Management would be long lasting and fruitful for both the Institutions.

Ms. Moira and Prof. Poonam discussed about the possibility of student exchange program and summer programme (both inbound and outbound). The short term programme for about 14 days which will include classroom sessions, Industry visits, cultural visits, and sight-seeing. Optionally, another proposal discussed was Credit Earning Programme Exchange for a trimester wherein Jaipuria students can pick an elective or electives and complete the same in Whitireia campus. However, this arrangement might take some time on both sides as this needs approval from the concerned authorities on both ends.

Prof. Poonam then met Prof. Mick Jays, Head of School – Business, WelTech and Whitireia where they discussed about the viability of Faculty Exchange. Mick expressed his willingness and interest for sending a faculty from Whitireia at Jaipuria Institute of Management for teaching, and joint research initiatives in the upcoming year. This relationship could be built further for inbound faculty exchange as it materializes.

She also met Mr. Ashok Prabhu, Manager Research and Innovation, for collaborative research opportunities. As they are very keen on it, they assured to take promising steps in this direction.

It was a week of productive meetings and networking with the HOD's and staff of WelTech and Whitireia at Wellington

On their discussion on collaborating for Summer programs, they asked to share a similar proposal that we had designed for the Rutgers for Summer program that can be initiated in July- Aug'17. However, this needs to be discussed with the colleagues in the department of marketing for further confirmation at their end and was keen for summer program collaboration with us. They expressed their willingness and interest for faculty exchange as well. It was elaborated by them that as of now no faculty exchange has happened, henceforth dean has to take a call for the initiation of the same. As they are very keen on it, they assured to take promising steps in this direction.

Furthermore, they have shown willingness for the conference collaboration and assured to circulate ICMAPRANE conference details amongst their faculty and shown interest for conference collaboration.

3. Oculistics (eye contact)
4. Proxemics (appropriate distance between two individuals)

Dear Sir /Ma'am,

Greetings from Jaipuria, Noida!!

GUEST SESSION BY DR. KULDEEP KUMAR

ON

"FINANCIAL STATEMENT FRAUDS"

December 15, 2017 marked a very special place in the books of Jaipuria Institute of Management, Noida as the day was embraced by Dr. Kuldeep Kumar, Professor, Department of Economics and Statistics at Bond Business School, Bond University, Queensland, Australia to give his valuable insight on the topic "Financial Statement Frauds: Detection and possibility of Company failure."

The field of business failure prediction has many aliases, such as bankruptcy prediction, firm failure prediction and financial distress prediction. Hereafter it will be referred to as Business Failure Prediction (BFP). As the name suggests, BFP involves developing models that attempt to predict the financial failure of a business before it actually happens.

Some benefits from accurate business failure predictions are:

- Banks, investment banks, credit unions, and other financial institutions could avoid lending to businesses that will fail, and thus never repay their loans.
- The financial investment sector could improve the risk return trade-off from investments by not investing in failing businesses.
- Businesses could establish long-term relationships with other businesses (such as suppliers) that will not fail in the future, and thus increase the longevity and viability of their business relationships.
- Regulatory bodies could make early identifications of failing businesses. This early identification assists regulatory bodies in ensuring that business failure is 'handled' legally and illegal activities, such as avoiding taxes or diluting debt holders' claims by issuing substantial common stock dividends prior to failure, are avoided.

The session was highly attended and cherished by everyone present in the vicinity. All in all, the journey was an exciting, exhilarating and a learning experience in a package of one session. In this ever changing and ever evolving time there occurs a need to understand the processes and techniques involved in the financial transactions in order to make sure that there exists a smooth flow of cash and that any kind of discrepancy can be avoided. Living in a time where even a slight flaw in the modes and methods of recording transactions can be devastating, a lecture of such headline proved to be really crucial for understanding a wide range of nitty gritty regarding the ways of carrying out financial transactions.

Further some valuable insights were given upon Transparency International which is a leading non-political, independent, non-governmental anti-corruption organization of India. The insights highlighted the voice TII provides to the victims and witnesses of corruption.

The major concern came up with India's poor positioning in Transparency International. In the end along with being an innovative session the event proved to be an informative session as well. The audience was at the receiving end of a lot of knowledge and information. The event proved to be a major success and Jaipuria Institute of Management was obliged by the presence of the guest. The understanding and insights received from the guest opened up new horizons of knowledge in the minds of the students present in the vicinity. Dr. Deepak Singh, Dean Academics, Jaipuria Noida ended the session with a vote of thanks to Dr. Kuldeep for enlightening and sharing his valuable knowledge with all the students.

Thanks & Regards

Dear Professor Pathak,

As discussed, Professor Lance Bode, who retired as the Director Research and Industrial Collaboration from Sohar University and two other ex-colleagues (English Teachers at Sohar University) are visiting India as tourists. I wish if we can take some benefits of their presence here and organize a couple of sessions to benefit our staff and students. They won't charge any money for their services and would be happy to contribute to the community.

I am presenting below the biographic profiles of the visitors. There are four people in the delegation. On our part, we can offer them accommodation at your guest houses and a local visit.

I propose the following parallel sessions to be conducted at JIM Noida on 6th August:

- a. A workshop on Writing a Research Grant Proposal for a group of 20-30 Research oriented staff members: Delivered by Professor Lance and Rakesh Belwal
- b. A workshop/lecture to a group of students on Academic Writing delivered by Mrs. June Bode, Mrs. Diana Gail Barnsbee, Ms. Crystal.

Please let me know if there is any scope to tap this opportunity of academic interaction. I look forward to hearing from you,

With thanks and regards,

Rakesh

Dear Sushrutha

We have worked out the six weeks schedule. Thanks to Poonam and my team. We had a intensive brain storming session with all the summer school returned students (Leeds, RWTH, Tel Aviv and Ara) and drafted the KCT programs.

Please let us know if you need anything else for the proposal to be submitted to the NZ Govt. I really do hope that you will be able to get the funding so that your team will be able to visit India.

Thanks for all your support

Dear Sushrutha

We have worked out the six weeks schedule. Thanks to Poonam and my team. We had a intensive brain storming session with all the summer school returned students (Leeds, RWTH, Tel Aviv and Ara) and drafted the KCT programs.

Please let us know if you need anything else for the proposal to be submitted to the NZ Govt. I really do hope that you will be able to get the funding so that your team will be able to visit India.

Thanks for all your support

Regards
Vijila
