I. Course Outcomes of Courses Offered

Assessment Tools and processes

The course outcome evaluation is based on direct assessment of students through various assessment tools to measure the course assessment / workshop-based assessments.

The list of assessment tools is enlisted in the table appended below.

Table 3.2.1: List of Assessment tools to measure course outcomes

Type	Assessment Tools
Course Outcome	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Quizzes</li> <li>• Moodle-based written assignment on Turnitin (plagiarism-checked assessment)</li> <li>• Exercises/ role plays/ Case studies</li> <li>• Student seminars/ presentations</li> <li>• Student Artifacts/ Portfolios</li> <li>• Online discussion forums</li> <li>• Group project/ assignment</li> <li>• End-term examination – online/offline mode</li> </ul>
Workshops / Seminars	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reflective notes</li> <li>• Diary entry</li> <li>• Group presentation / group reflections on take-away of the workshop/ seminar</li> </ul>

Regular Courses Outcome assessment

- (A) Quizzes – Multiple choice questions or scenario-based questions are used to assess the students on their basic understanding of the subjects. Generally, 2 to 4 quizzes are organized on moodle, where questions are uploaded by the faculty and students are given random questions on which their responses are gathered. This component is used as a part of internal assessment as described in the course outline.
- (B) Moodle based Turnitin assignment – Turnitin assignments are created on moodle, where students are required to submit their written assignment on the given topic along with the plagiarism report within the given deadline. The acceptable limit of plagiarism is <15%.

- (C) Role Plays/ exercises/ case studies – The assessment of the student is also done on the basis of certain case studies, scenario mapping exercises or role plays which are conducted as in-class activities and certain concepts are taught with the help of these exercises alone. This is more prevalent for the second year students when they are adept at the nuances of management courses. Case studies are also used for teaching the concepts and sometimes evaluating the class participation of individual students during the class discussions
- (D) Student Seminars/ presentations – the students are provided with relevant topics on current trends of marketplace. They are encouraged to prepare themselves with the current issues and participate in student panel discussions. The class is also motivated to ask questions from the panelists; this helps in enhancing everyone’s knowledge on recent trends and issues. This also prepares students to keep themselves abreast with latest knowledge on various topics through reading blogs and recent articles.
- (E) Student artifacts/ portfolios – Students are asked to prepare personal portfolios that are self-assessment reflections report based on the analysis of psychometric instruments. This helps student identify their personality dimensions and let them take up enhancement of those areas which will provide them success in various career and life situations. In yet another assignment, students were asked to create an artifact which consisted of some recent business news articles from newspapers, magazines, financial reports, etc. This is to encourage their reading and writing habits, especially news items, significant for their future corporate roles.
- (F) Online discussions forums – Topics/ case-lets/ situations are given to the students in an online forum based on moodle platform. The discussions are encouraged from all the students in an online chat-like discussion format. This is done to ensure student engagement, continued learning and facilitation of knowledge dissemination through the usage of all kinds of medium.
- (G) Group Project/ Assignment – The students are divided into study groups and topics are given in such a manner that the evaluation of each student’s contribution in the group can be evaluated. This is also to teach them team collaboration, an important employability skill for management students.
- (H) Mid-term/ End –term examination – Another form of assessment is through mid-term and end-term exams. In most of the courses, only end-term exams of 40 marks are being held, the rest of the marks is ensured through continued internal assessments as per the course outline. It is important to note that the institute has been aware and mindful of environmental and sustainable issues and strive towards being paperless by conducting online exams to replace pen and paper exams. Such a move proved useful during COVID times when the exams were conducted primarily through online mechanisms. The online submission of end term answer-sheets during COVID times was done on Turnitin to minimize the plagiarism issues.
- (I) Workshop/ Seminar Assessment
- As these courses take place in fast track mode and also have lesser number of sessions than in the regular courses, the assessment has also been designed to incorporate this facet.
- (H) Diary entry – To ensure that the students keep a track of whatever was being conducted during the sessions, students are asked to prepare journal/ diary entries and submit a written summarized note at the end of the workshop/ seminar.

- (J) Reflective notes – Similar to diary entry, students are supposed to submit a reflection of their learnings during the workshop/ seminar in about 300 to 500 words.
- (K) Group presentations/research – the students are required to work collaboratively on the given topic. Based on their field/ secondary research on the select topic, they are required to give a group presentation and a written report to the concerned facilitator/ instructor/ faculty.

Discussion on Evolution of Management

Supreme Ltd. was engaged in the business of manufacturing auto components. Lately, its business was expanding because of the increasing demand for cars. The competition was also increasing. In order to keep its market share intact, the company directed its workforce to work overtime. But this resulted in many problems. Due to increased pressure of work the efficiency of workers declined. Sometimes the subordinates had to work for more than one superior. The workers were becoming indisciplined. The spirit of teamwork, which had characterised the company previously had begun to wane. Identify any relevant principles of management as given by Henry Fayol which were being violated, quoting the exact lines from the case.

Course outcome attainment levels are calculated for all courses of the program. However, the tables appended below this section states course attainment levels for all core courses (also includes specialization core) mapped on each program objective (PO). The benchmark attainment levels for the AY 2018-19 have been set considering the average performance levels achieved in the preceding years. For all the courses mapped on program objective the benchmark attainment is fixed at medium level. The 60% weightage is assigned to continuous evaluation components held regularly in terms of quizzes, written assignments, discussions, case analysis, etc. and 40% weightage is assigned to end term assessment. The attainment calculations has been taken as 60% of continuous evaluation components + 40% of end term examination or some practical examination for workshop courses.

The course attainment levels for the AY 2018-19 has been defined as per parameters given below:

Attainment Level 1 (Low): Less than 50% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks
Attainment Level 2 (Medium): Between 50 - 60% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks
Attainment Level 3 (High): More than 60% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks

II. MAPPING OF COURSES

CO-PO mapping is done by establishing correlation between the course outcome and the programme outcome on a scale of 0-3, where 0 indicates no correlation, 1 being the low correlation, 2 being medium correlation and 3 being high correlation. In this way a mapping matrix is prepared by including all core courses.

Courses and Programme Outcome matrices for the three assessment years are given as follows:

I. COURSE OUTCOMES OF COURSES OFFERED

Different assessment tools and processes are used to measure the student learning and assessment of course outcomes.

Assessment Tools and processes

The course outcome evaluation is based on direct assessment of students through various assessment tools to measure the course assessment / workshop-based assessments.

The list of assessment tools is enlisted in the table appended below.

Table3.2.1: List of Assessment tools to measure course outcomes

Type	Assessment Tools
Course Outcome	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Quizzes</li> <li>• Moodle-based written assignment on Turnitin (plagiarism-checked assessment)</li> <li>• Exercises/ role plays/ Case studies</li> <li>• Student seminars/ presentations</li> <li>• Student Artifacts/ Portfolios</li> <li>• Online discussion forums</li> <li>• Group project/ assignment</li> <li>• End-term examination – online/offline mode</li> </ul>
Workshops / Seminars	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reflective notes</li> <li>• Diary entry</li> <li>• Group presentation / group reflections on take-away of the workshop/ seminar</li> </ul>

Regular Courses Outcome assessment

- (A) Quizzes – Multiple choice questions or scenario-based questions are used to assess the students on their basic understanding of the subjects. Generally, 2 to 4 quizzes are organized on moodle, where questions are uPOaded by the faculty and students are given random questions on which their responses are gathered. This component is used as a part of internal assessment as described in the course outline.

- (B) Moodle based Turnitin assignment – Turnitin assignments are created on moodle, where students are required to submit their written assignment on the given topic along with the plagiarism report within the given deadline. The acceptable limit of plagiarism is <15%.
- (C) Role Plays/ exercises/ case studies – The assessment of the student is also done on the basis of certain case studies, scenario mapping exercises or role plays which are conducted as in-class activities and certain concepts are taught with the help of these exercises alone. This is more prevalent for the second year students when they are adept at the nuances of management courses. Case studies are also used for teaching the concepts and sometimes evaluating the class participation of individual students during the class discussions
- (D) Student Seminars/ presentations – the students are provided with relevant topics on current trends of marketplace. They are encouraged to prepare themselves with the current issues and participate in student panel discussions. The class is also motivated to ask questions from the panelists; this helps in enhancing everyone’s knowledge on recent trends and issues. This also prepares students to keep themselves abreast with latest knowledge on various topics through reading blogs and recent articles.
- (E) Student artifacts/ portfolios – Students are asked to prepare personal portfolios that are self-assessment reflections report based on the analysis of psychometric instruments. This helps student identify their personality dimensions and let them take up enhancement of those areas which will provide them success in various career and life situations. In yet another assignment, students were asked to create an artifact which consisted of some recent business news articles from newspapers, magazines, financial reports, etc. This is to encourage their reading and writing habits, especially news items, significant for their future corporate roles.
- (F) Online discussions forums – Topics/ case-lets/ situations are given to the students in an online forum based on moodle platform. The discussions are encouraged from all the students in an online chat-like discussion format. This is done to ensure student engagement, continued learning and facilitation of knowledge dissemination through the usage of all kinds of medium.
- (G) Group Project/ Assignment – The students are divided into study groups and topics are given in such a manner that the evaluation of each student’s contribution in the group can be evaluated. This is also to teach them team collaboration, an important employability skill for management students.
- (H) Mid-term/ End –term examination – Another form of assessment is through mid-term and end-term exams. In most of the courses, only end-term exams of 40 marks are being held, the rest of the marks is ensured through continued internal assessments as per the course outline. It is important to note that the institute has been aware and mindful of environmental and sustainable issues and strive towards being paperless by conducting online exams to replace pen and paper exams. Such a move proved useful during COVID times when the exams were conducted primarily through online mechanisms. The online submission of end term answer-sheets during COVID times was done on Turnitin to minimize the plagiarism issues.
- (I) Workshop/ Seminar Assessment

As these courses take place in fast track mode and also have lesser number of sessions than in the regular courses, the assessment has also been designed to incorporate this facet.

- (J) Diary entry – To ensure that the students keep a track of whatever was being conducted during the sessions, students are asked to prepare journal/ diary entries and submit a written summarized note at the end of the workshop/ seminar.

- (K) Reflective notes – Similar to diary entry, students are supposed to submit a reflection of their learnings during the workshop/ seminar in about 300 to 500 words.
- (L) Group presentations/research – the students are required to work collaboratively on the given topic. Based on their field/ secondary research on the select topic, they are required to give a group presentation and a written report to the concerned facilitator/ instructor/ faculty.

Discussion on evolution of management thought

Supreme Ltd. was engaged in the business of manufacturing auto components. Lately, its business was expanding because of the increasing demand for cars. The competition was also increasing. In order to keep its market share intact, the company directed its workforce to work overtime. But this resulted in many problems. Due to increased pressure of work the efficiency of workers declined. Sometimes the subordinates had to work for more than one superiors. The workers were becoming indisciplined. The spirit of teamwork, which had characterised the company previously had begun to wane. Identify the appropriate principles of management (as given by Henry Fayol) which were being violated, quoting the exact lines from the case.

Course outcome attainment levels are calculated for all courses of the program. However, the tables appended below this section states course attainment levels for all core courses (also includes specialization core) mapped on each program objective (PO). The benchmark attainment levels for the AY 2018-19 have been set considering the average performance levels achieved in the preceding years. For all the courses mapped on program objective the benchmark attainment is fixed at medium level. The 60% weightage is assigned to continuous evaluation components held regularly in terms of quizzes, written assignments, discussions, case analysis, etc. and 40% weightage is assigned to end term assessment. The attainment calculations has been taken as 60% of continuous evaluation components + 40% of end term examination or some practical examination for workshop courses.

The course attainment levels for the AY 2018-19 has been defined as per parameters given below:

Attainment Level 1 (Low): Less than 50% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks
Attainment Level 2 (Medium): Between 50 - 60% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks
Attainment Level 3 (High): More than 60% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks

II. MAPPING OF COURSES

CO-PO mapping is done by establishing correlation between the course outcome and the programme outcome on a scale of 0-3, where 0 indicates no correlation, 1 being the low correlation, 2 being medium correlation and 3 being high correlation. In this way a mapping matrix is prepared by including all core courses.

Correlation between Courses and Programme Outcome for the three assessment year are given as follows:

I. COURSE OUTCOMES OF COURSES OFFERED

Different assessment tools and processes are used to measure the student learning and assessment of course outcomes.

Assessment Tools and processes

The course outcome evaluation is based on direct assessment of students through various assessment tools to measure the course assessment / workshop-based assessments.

The list of assessment tools is enlisted in the table appended below.

Type	Assessment Tools
Course Outcome	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Quizzes</li> <li>• Moodle-based written assignment on Turnitin (plagiarism-checked assessment)</li> <li>• Exercises/ role plays/ Case studies</li> <li>• Student seminars/ presentations</li> <li>• Student Artifacts/ Portfolios</li> <li>• Online discussion forums</li> <li>• Group project/ assignment</li> <li>• End-term examination – online/offline mode</li> </ul>
Workshops / Seminars	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Reflective notes</li> <li>• Diary entry</li> <li>• Group presentation / group reflections on take-away of the workshop/ seminar</li> </ul>

Regular Courses Outcome assessment

- (A) Quizzes – Multiple choice questions or scenario-based questions are used to assess the students on their basic understanding of the subjects. Generally, 2 to 4 quizzes are organized on moodle, where questions are uploaded by the faculty and students are given random questions on which their responses are gathered. This component is used as a part of internal assessment as described in the course outline.

- (B) Moodle based Turnitin assignment – Turnitin assignments are created on moodle, where students are required to submit their written assignment on the given topic along with the plagiarism report within the given deadline. The acceptable limit of plagiarism is <15%.
- (C) Role Plays/ exercises/ case studies – The assessment of the student is also done on the basis of certain case studies, scenario mapping exercises or role plays which are conducted as in-class activities and certain concepts are taught with the help of these exercises alone. This is more prevalent for the second year students when they are adept at the nuances of management courses. Case studies are also used for teaching the concepts and sometimes evaluating the class participation of individual students during the class discussions
- (D) Student Seminars/ presentations – the students are provided with relevant topics on current trends of marketplace. They are encouraged to prepare themselves with the current issues and participate in student panel discussions. The class is also motivated to ask questions from the panelists; this helps in enhancing everyone’s knowledge on recent trends and issues. This also prepares students to keep themselves abreast with latest knowledge on various topics through reading blogs and recent articles.
- (E) Student artifacts/ portfolios – Students are asked to prepare personal portfolios that are self-assessment reflections report based on the analysis of psychometric instruments. This helps student identify their personality dimensions and let them take up enhancement of those areas which will provide them success in various career and life situations. In yet another assignment, students were asked to create an artifact which consisted of some recent business news articles from newspapers, magazines, financial reports, etc. This is to encourage their reading and writing habits, especially news items, significant for their future corporate roles.
- (F) Online discussions forums – Topics/ case-lets/ situations are given to the students in an online forum based on moodle platform. The discussions are encouraged from all the students in an online chat-like discussion format. This is done to ensure student engagement, continued learning and facilitation of knowledge dissemination through the usage of all kinds of medium.
- (G) Group Project/ Assignment – The students are divided into study groups and topics are given in such a manner that the evaluation of each student’s contribution in the group can be evaluated. This is also to teach them team collaboration, an important employability skill for management students.
- (H) Mid-term/ End –term examination – Another form of assessment is through mid-term and end-term exams. In most of the courses, only end-term exams of 40 marks are being held, the rest of the marks is ensured through continued internal assessments as per the course outline. It is important to note that the institute has been aware and mindful of environmental and sustainable issues and strive towards being paperless by conducting online exams to replace pen and paper exams. Such a move proved useful during COVID times when the exams were conducted primarily through online mechanisms. The online submission of end term answer-sheets during COVID times was done on Turnitin to minimize the plagiarism issues.
- (I) Workshop/ Seminar Assessment

As these courses take place in fast track mode and also have lesser number of sessions than in the regular courses, the assessment has also been designed to incorporate this facet.

- (J) Diary entry – To ensure that the students keep a track of whatever was being conducted during the sessions, students are asked to prepare journal/ diary entries and submit a written summarized note at the end of the workshop/ seminar.
- (K) Reflective notes – Similar to diary entry, students are supposed to submit a reflection of their learnings during the workshop/ seminar in about 300 to 500 words.
- (L) Group presentations/research – the students are required to work collaboratively on the given topic. Based on their field/ secondary research on the select topic, they are required to give a group presentation and a written report to the concerned facilitator/ instructor/ faculty.

Sebi raises concerns over rising corporate failures

The regulator asks firms to protect interests of minority shareholders

AUSHEK RAKSHY
Kolkata, 7 August

Following the rise in corporate failures over the past few months, the Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) has flagged concerns on key issues plaguing companies and recommended corrective measures.

The primary issue, according to the capital markets regulator, is related party transactions (RPT) — being extensively used by some companies to raise capital for another firm. The regulator feels that while RPTs serve the promoter's purpose to raise capital by means of mortgage or extension of loans/inter-corporate deposits, it goes against the interest of minority shareholders. Moreover, it is being used as a means to commit fraud.

"We have seen promoters use the RPT route when their company is heading towards insolvency," said Amarjeet Singh, executive director at Sebi, during an event organised by the CII.

According to Singh, boards need to protect the interests of both minority and majority stakeholders, and need to balance the same. The second aspect, which the markets regulator said was plaguing the industry is non-disclosure of valuation reports and low transparency.

"There are concerns over adequacy and

- Related-party transactions

transparency of the disclosures," Singh said. Sebi is of the view that some promoter groups have been using a complex structure of companies to conceal possible fraud that is hard to detect and surfaces only at a time of dire financial stress. Singh cited an incident in which a promoter group had floated as many as 150 companies to hide "his misdeeds". Singh also called for more participation from independent directors.

Economy to revive

Government and industry officials say that while the current sluggishness is momentary, one needs to consider ongoing investments and other parameters that will help revive the economy.

Anand Mohan Bajaj, joint secretary (FM) at the Centre's department of economic affairs, says an investment of ₹1 trillion is being lined up to boost rural infrastructure to help the economy recover, while good corporate governance norms, greater use of technology, and fiscal prudence will help India achieve its projection of becoming a $5-trillion economy.

"I believe the target is very much achievable. Low inflation, stable exchange rate and an optimal GDP growth rate will help achieve the target," he said.

Key words:

Corporate failures, SEBI, RPT, Insolvency, Non disclosure of valuation reports, Non-transparency, Fraudulent practices, Monetary sluggishness, Revive the economy, 5-trillion economy.

Scanning:

SEBI is apprehensive about the company's current environment. It has raised concerns over several issues and suggested corrective measures.

Corporate these days are using RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS (RPT). A RPT - transaction is taken place between two parties who hold a pre-existing connection prior to transaction and being extensively used to raise capital from another firm. Companies use this strategy to raise capital by means of mortgage or extension of loans/inter-corporate deposits.

Discussions on D&I

Case Scenario 1

A first rate employee who has been with his company for ten years and has never had a single complaint lodged against him makes a controversial statement about a coworker's sexual orientation when he is asked a point blank question by another coworker. His remark causes nearly every employee in his division to complain about him to management and demand an apology. The employee who made the statement but refuses to apologize because he believes that he is entitled to his own opinion, especially since he was pressed on the matter. Should the employee in question be disciplined? Is he entitled to his own opinion in the workplace?

Should be questioned
by Arpita Jain - Thursday, 28 January 2021, 10:17 PM

The employee in the case gave his own opinion, he might be true for himself, but many people have a different point of view while considering such matters. He should be aware of the fact that he is in corporate environment, and should behave accordingly, he should be aware of diversity of people in the workplace. The company can also make the employees aware of such matters by organizing some awareness programs to teach the culture to be followed in the organization. Such matters should not be repeated as this can have really bad effects in the firm. Employees can also choose to avoid making such comments which they feel can have such effects and if the employees will maintain harmony in the firm, then only they will be able to give the full efforts.

Yes he should be questioned
by Sukrit Shringi - Wednesday, 27 January 2021, 10:07 PM

He should be questioned for his remarks against another co-workers. Employee is living in a co-operate environment so he must behave like an professional adult employee. He should maintain peace and harmony in organization. Company should also organize some awareness seminars where employees are taught the right culture of living in an organization. This kind of act should be stopped immediately otherwise later on it can have serious consequences among employee in the organization.

Wrong Opinion
by Aman Bansal - Monday, 25 January 2021, 4:25 PM

He has only given his own honest opinion, but he can be wrong also as opinion of peoples vary from each other. And the organisation should create some awareness programs to give its employees the correct information and knowledge about it and it should be taken care that this type of culture should not prevail in the organisation.

Course outcome attainment levels are calculated for all courses of the program. However, the tables appended below this section states course attainment levels for all core courses (also includes specialization core) mapped on each program objective (PO). The benchmark attainment levels for the AY 2018-19 have been set considering the average performance levels achieved in the preceding years. For all the courses mapped on program objective the benchmark attainment is fixed at medium level. The 60% weightage is assigned to continuous evaluation components held regularly in terms of quizzes, written assignments, discussions, case analysis, etc. and 40% weightage is assigned to end term assessment. The attainment calculations has been taken as 60% of continuous evaluation components + 40% of end term examination or some practical examination for workshop courses.

The course attainment levels for the AY 2018-19 has been defined as per parameters given below:

Attainment Level 1 (Low): Less than 50% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks
Attainment Level 2 (Medium): Between 50 - 60% students scoring more than 60% marks out of the relevant maximum marks

II. MAPPING OF COURSES

CO-PO mapping is done by establishing correlation between the course outcome and the programme outcome on a scale of 0-3, where 0 indicates no correlation, 1 being the low correlation, 2 being medium correlation and 3 being high correlation. In this way a mapping matrix is prepared by including all core courses.

Correlation between Courses and Programme Outcome matrices for the three assessment years are given as follows:

Table 3.1 (a) Mapping Matrix (AY 2018-19)
